NOTICE TO PNM CUSTOMERS AND THE PUBLIC

Public Service Company of New Mexico ("PNM") has filed an application requesting issuance of a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity ("CCN") to construct, own and operate the Mid-State 345 kV Transmission Project and associated facilities (the "Project"). The Project is a new, approximately 102.8-mile, 345 kV transmission path extending from PNM's Western Spirit Switching Station in Torrance County to the Hidden Mountain Substation in Valencia County and includes related station expansions, reactive support, series compensation, and remedial action scheme modifications. PNM also requests approval to locate the Project within the proposed transmission-study corridor. The Project will also require Commission approval of a Right-of-Way ("ROW") width of 200 feet. Additionally, PNM is requesting, to the extent the Commission deems it necessary, express written authorization for PNM to acquire the transmission line from Pattern Energy Group LP once it is constructed. PNM asserts the Project is needed to provide the network reinforcement required to deliver renewable energy interconnected in eastern New Mexico toward PNM's principal load-serving area, strengthen system reliability and resiliency, support load growth and changing resource needs, and improve operational flexibility. PNM requests a procedural schedule that permits a final order on the ROW-width request within six months and on the CCN and location-approval requests within nine months after filing. PNM's application includes best-known cost estimates for the Project, however any ratemaking treatment will be deferred to a future general rate case.

Because of different statutory deadlines, the Commission has bifurcated this matter into two separate proceedings.

- A proceeding concerning PNM's request for the necessary ROW-width to construct and maintain the transmission line, which is Docket No. 26-0000195, and is described in this Notice.
- A proceeding concerning PNM's request for issuance of a CCN and location approval to construct, own, and operate a new 345 kV transmission line extending from PNM's Western Spirit Switching Station to the Hidden Mountain Substation, which is Docket No. 26-0000188, and is described in a separate Notice being issued at or about the same time as this Notice.

The dates in this Notice apply only to the portions of the Application being heard under Docket No. 26-0000195, concerning PNM's request for the necessary ROW-width to construct and maintain the transmission line. Dates related to the portion of the Application relating to PNM's request for issuance of a CCN and location approval to construct, own, and operate a new 345 kV transmission line extending from PNM's Western Spirit Switching Station to the Hidden Mountain Substation are included in the notice for Docket No. 26-0000188.

More information about this proceeding can be found on PNM's website, https://www.pnm.com/regulatory, and the Commission's PRCe360 Docketing System at https://e360.prc.nm.gov, or by contacting the Commission at the addresses and telephone number provided below. The Commission has assigned Docket No. 26-0000195 to this case. All questions or written comments about this case should refer to this docket number.
