Quote:

“There are different ways to acquire the skills one needs for the trades, agriculture, environmental jobs, or working for a utility, said Laurie Roach, PNM Resources Foundation Director. “That’s the focus of the PNM Resources Foundation grants that are open now.”

“There are also many different learners; those with unique challenges or histories (such as the developmentally disabled, formerly incarcerated or veterans). We hope to support the mission of nonprofits working with exceptional populations not served by traditional education systems.”
