Project Need Justification

The current display of safety tags is done using paper maps and is a duplication of the information stored in the SCADA and TMS systems. The Installation of ultra-high resolution video display wall to replace DOC paper wall maps will allow all the safety tagging to be consolidated in the TMS system. It will also provide an automated display of the safety tags at resolution that will allow all or a significant portion of the distribution system in a particular division to be displayed. The ultra-high resolution monitors will be stitched together to form combined video wall display capabilities. The system will also be able to handle inputs from other sources, at an additional cost, which will be dependent on the type of system and data being displayed. This CDAP is for replacing the current paper map safety tagging system with a ultra-high resolution video monitor system driven from the TMS system. The wall map needs to be ultra-high resolution so that large portions of the distribution system can be viewed small text can be read.

Project Alternatives

The alternatives are using a lower resolution system, recognizing that these systems are quickly becoming obsolete or stay with the paper wall map approach.

Technical Aspects

To drive the ultra-high resolution displays the OMS signal needs to be converted and reconditioned to achieve 32k resolution. This is accomplished by using dedicated video processing and interfaces called the BOXX computers and interfaces. Converting and conditioning of the OMS signal requires support from 5280Digital, RGB Spectrum, and BOXX computers. Once the signal is converted and reconditioned it will be transmitted to the 32 4K ultra high resolution displays.

Project No: 60034013 Updated Mobile Comp Line Trucks

Company: 001
Location: 600

Project Information

Construction Start Date 3/8/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 09/30/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Existing computers were outdated and would not run the new and/or upgraded applications. Needed to update the fleet of mobile computing devices for the Metro line department in order to run the specific operational applications such as Arc FM (mapping), BC Lamps, Service Suite, etc...which are key applications utilized by crews when performing field operational work.

Project Alternatives

Two other options: one, keep the old computers and forgo the ability to utilize the updated or new mobile operational applications. Or, two, do away with the mobile computers and revert back to paper maps, and other paper documents to issue work to, and as reference for the line crews

Technical Aspects

Install necessary applications to the mobile computers, and correctly configure the computers to effectively run operational applications such as Arc FM (mapping app), BC Lamps, and Service Suite

Project Need Justification

There are several external factors that drive the need for initial and ongoing technical training, focused primarily on craft employees. These external factors include the aging workforce, changing technology and the existing and changing OSHA and other regulatory requirements.
As our aging workforce retires, we are increasingly adding less experienced or apprentice craft employees who require increased levels of technical training. As the technology in the industry changes and the new technology is implemented in the PNM System, specialized training is required to ensure our workforce has the skills to work with the new technology in a manner that protects the system, the asset and the employee. Existing and changing compliance requirements mandate that we provide periodic technical training/exercises to ensure the continued safety of our workforce. Currently PNM does not have training facilities that allow for adequate training and exercises to meet the above mentioned needs in a safe and controlled environment. Much of the training takes place on old, broken equipment, in a classroom environment, or on equipment and facilities that are already in service increasing the risk of improper training and injury or damage to employees and equipment.

Project Alternatives

Technical Aspects

The training facility will be designed to meet the training needs of all T&D crafts in the foreseeable future. However, the design will be created in phases so that the facility can be built in stages over time based on priorities and funding levels. The initial phase will include a classroom and storage facility at the sight as well as the addition of basic elements required to meet and maintain OSHA compliance, such as poles, transformers, manholes, switchgears, etc. Select equipment will be energized to provide for a controlled environment when teaching the apprentices to work on energized equipment.

Project Need Justification

This project is to provide a second feeder source, Panorama Feeder 11, into western Corrales. A Rio Hondo Reconfiguration Study shows voltage is outside of ANSI Range A in Corrales under normal conditions. Building a line extension between Panorama Feeder 11 and Rio Hondo 13 and connecting several single-phase taps to it in western Corrales, as well as some additional re-phasing, corrects low voltage problems in Corrales and reduces the load on the Rio Hondo Substation transformer. Eventually, the new circuit will be served from the proposed Corrales Bluff unit transformer. Having two circuits in the Corrales area from two different sources, Rio Hondo and Corrales Bluff, will provide greater reliability for the Village of Corrales since the new feeders can be used to provide backup support for each other. Also, breaking up the large single-phase loops in Corrales into smaller loops will improve reliability since fewer customers will be affected by an outage on any one loop.

Project Alternatives

A route up Loma Larga was considered but the new route was opposed by the village of Corrales Mayor and Council. Since both routes accomplished the project objective, the preferred route by the Mayor and Council was chosen.

Technical Aspects

This project is to extend the three-phase line on the western edge of Corrales approximately 15,300 ft. using overhead construction and connect it to the three-phase 750AL underground conductor from switch SW674S on Paseo Tomas Montoya. Transfer 5 single-phase loops from Rio Hondo Feeder 13 to this new line extension served by Panorama Feeder 11.

Project Need Justification

This project is to extend one new feeder from the Veranda Unit II transformer to unload Black Ranch Feeder 14 and to serve growing load in the Cabezon area. Growth in this area includes residential growth and a new outdoor mall, similar to the ABQ Uptown Mall. The 2013 peak load at the new Presbyterian Hospital was 1,378kW and the preliminary projected load for the new mall is 2,000kW. The combined load from the hospital, the new mall, which is to be located north of the new Presbyterian Hospital, and the residential growth in the area subdivisions such as Cabezon, will also make this feeder necessary for contingency support.

Project Alternatives

This is the only viable solution. The need for Veranda Feeder 23 was anticipated when the Veranda Unit II transformer was installed. At that time, four-feeder switchgear was installed at Veranda Substation and three feeders were placed in service. The available feeder bay will be used for Veranda Feeder 23.

Technical Aspects

Extend a new Veranda Feeder 23 approximately 8700 ft. south from Veranda Substation along 15th St. SE, 13th Ave SE, and 19th St SE to connect to switch SW558S. Install a new PMH-10 switchgear near the corner of Unser Blvd. SE and Black Arroyo Rd. NW and connect it to the existing distribution system.

Project Need Justification

This project is to facilitate load transfers between area feeders and to accommodate new load growth. Due to the new Westside Presbyterian Hospital, there are plans for new commercial development, such as new doctor's offices, in the area north of the hospital. There are also plans for a new outdoor mall, similar to ABQ Uptown with a preliminary load estimate of 2 MW, north of the new Presbyterian Hospital. This new load growth will make providing backup support between the area feeders difficult to accomplish. The new tie on Westside Blvd. will provide switching options between Cottonwood Feeder 11, Veranda Feeder 14 and Veranda Feeder 24 so that backup support can be provided in the area for an outage of any one of these feeders.

Project Alternatives

This is the only viable solution. The only other alternative is to do nothing, which could cause extended power outages for customers due to lack of backup feeder tie capacity during an outage of any of the above mentioned area feeders.

Technical Aspects

This project is to extend an overhead feeder tie, using 397 AAAC, east along Westside Blvd NW approximately 3180 ft. to Golf Course Rd SE, and to install two new SCADA controlled switches at the intersection of Westside Blvd NW and Golf Course Rd. SE.

Project Need Justification

This project is driven by the need for additional tie capacity for an outage during peak load conditions of Black Ranch Substation. Based on projected peak loads, Veranda Feeder 22 will be unable to provide backup support for both Black Ranch Feeder 11 and Black Ranch Feeder 14. The proposed tie will provide a separate path for Veranda 22 to backup Black Ranch Feeder 11 without picking up the majority of Black Ranch Feeder 14.

Project Alternatives

This is the only viable solution. The only other alternative is to do nothing, which could cause extended power outages for customers due to lack of backup feeder tie capacity during an outage of Black Ranch Substation.

Technical Aspects

This project is to extend three phases of Veranda feeder 22 10,400 ft. using 397AAC OH design to tie to Black Ranch feeder 11 along Irving Blvd. In addition, 12,000 feet of Veranda 22 is to be rebuilt using 397AAC OH design along Southern Blvd. west of Idalia Rd. to Encino Rd. and south of Southern Blvd. along Encino Rd. A SCADA controlled switch is to be installed as the normal open point north of Irving Blvd.

Project Need Justification

This project is to provide a new tie between Veranda Feeder 11 and Veranda Feeder 22. The present contingency plan for a Veranda Feeder 11 outage is to transfer 100% of Veranda Feeder 11 to 100% of Veranda Feeder 21. The tie will allow a portion of Veranda Feeder 11 to be transferred to Veranda 22 during the outage thereby eliminating an overload on Veranda Feeder 21.

Project Alternatives

This is the only viable solution. The only other alternative is to do nothing, which could cause extended power outages for customers due to lack of backup feeder tie capacity during an outage of Veranda Feeder 11.

Technical Aspects

Convert the 8,800ft of existing 394AAAC single-phase section on Veranda 22 to three phase and install a normally Open SCADA controlled switch.

Project No: 89902113 Veranda 11 to Palm 12 tie in 2013

Company: 001
Location: 899

Project Need Justification

The purpose of this project is to provide a new tie between Veranda Feeder 11 and Palm Feeder 12. The current contingency plan for a Veranda Feeder 11 outage is to transfer 100% of Veranda Feeder 11 to 100% of Veranda Feeder 21. The tie will allow a portion of Veranda Feeder 11 to be transferred to Palm Feeder 12 during the outage thereby eliminating an overload on Veranda Feeder 21.

Project Alternatives

This is the only viable solution. The only other alternative is to do nothing, which could cause extended power outages for customers due to lack of backup feeder tie capacity during an outage of Veranda Feeder 11.

Technical Aspects

Build approximately 2650 ft. of new three-phase primary overhead distribution line using 397AAC conductor from switch SW3486S to switch SW2135S.

Project No: 64807113 345kV Wood Structure Replacement

Company: 002
Location: 648

Project Information

Construction Start Date 11/1/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 12/18/15 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Two times per year in May and December.

Project Need Justification

Current 345kV wood pole lines are nearly 40 years old. In some cases, dead-ends are susceptible to pole fires and have caused numerous outages on the Bulk Electric System. These issues are costly and are best mitigated by replacement.

Project Alternatives

Continue with existing risk of outages and framing failures. Make replacements with in-kind structures, which do not mitigate this issue.

Technical Aspects

Replace 5-pole in-line wood dead-ends with steel pole structures. Improve access to remote sites for this construction and future line patrols. This is a continuation of a project initiated in 2013 and is part of the Long Range Plan program.

Project No: 64807213 Fiber Buildout OPGW ADS

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 8/2/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 7/31/16

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Project involves building last mile fiber projects into PNM facilities, connecting fiber loops, and reconductoring transmission lines with OPGW. These improvements are needed to complete SONET ring (a more secure communications network). The SONET ring technology is deployed or planned for deployment at all of PNM's major transmission stations. It provides communications for PNM's Transmission SCADA operations as well as protective relaying for PNM's Transmission network.

Project Alternatives

Take risk of operating on less secure communications network potential impacting Power Operations ability to control the electrical system.

Technical Aspects

The project will expand SONET technology to currently unserved PNM Switching Station and Generation Station assets through the extension of existing facilities to stations (last mile projects) and/or reconductoring undersized Fiber optic shield Wire (OPGW) or steel shield wire. The SONET system provides state-of-the-art high speed communications for PNM's Transmission SCADA operations as well as protective relaying for PNM's Transmission network. SONET technology (through a looped protection plan) mitigates the possibility of the loss of communications to a PNMl Station or Plant asset that could result from a fiber or single communication equipment failure. This is a significant reliability improvement. Increased capabilities of the communications network enhance the opportunities for better system data transmission as these needs typically grow over time.

Project No: 64807314 West Mesa Capacitor Replacement

Company: 002
Location: 648

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2015 In Service Date Completion Date 03/31/15 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Existing capacitor bank and the capacitor bank switching devices in this station have failed and need to be replaced. Damage caused by equipment failure is such that repairs are not feasible.

Project Alternatives

Operating the system with mobile VAR support at this location is not feasible. While mobile equipment has been placed into service until replacements can be made, this is not a long term solution. Furthermore, large customers have been adversely affected by the failure of the existing equipment.

Technical Aspects

Replace 48MVAR 115kV capacitor bank and the capacitor bank switching device capabilities upon completion of technical review to determine the best replacement solution.

List Interim In-Service Dates

Multiple transmission lines will be cleared on an ongoing basis and work orders closed at that time throughout the project.

Project Need Justification

This project is a continuation of the Vegetation LiDAR project which supplied mapping data via LiDAR and imagery data collection, associated aerial surveying products and processes, advanced data processing and end product development. This information will be used for compliance with new version of NERC FAC-003-3 reliability standard which took effect July 1, 2014 and also to satisfy Mitigation Plan to be filed with WECC for violations under previous version of FAC-003 standard. LiDAR data will be used to develop work plans using Integrated Vegetation Management techniques which will be assessed by the Environmental Department (ESD). The ESD will then issue clearances with or without stipulations, as needed. Work will commence in August as clearances are issued by Environmental Dept. IVM Partners - consultant - will also assist in development of a sound program using IVM techniques and act as a liaison with Federal agencies and tribal entities.

Technical Aspects

LiDAR data is being processed and will be delivered on a line by line basis from August 2014 through October 2014. This data will be used to then develop work plans using Integrated Vegetaion Management techniques which will be assessed by the Environmental Department (ESD). The ESD will then issue clearances with or without stipulations as needed. Work will commence in August as these clearances are issued by Environmental Dept. IVM Partners - consultant - will also assist in development of sound program using IVM techniques and act as a liaison with Federal agencies and tribal entities. About half or more the lines can be cleared in 2014, barring any delays in approval from Federal agencies, and the remainder will be completed in 2015. It is expected to be complete by September 2015. This information will be used for compliance with new version of NERC FAC-003-3 reliability standard which took effect July 1, 2014 and also to satisfy Mitigation Plan to be filed with WECC for violations under previous version of FAC-003 standard.

Project Need Justification

This project will replace aging circuit breakers that date back as far as the mid-1950's. The breakers are at risk for proper performance due to the need for extensive (and unplanned) maintenance, inability to secure spare parts, and the fact that many mechanisms are functionally obsolete. On some breakers, the number of yearly operations is very high, exacerbating their age. All of these breakers are reaching the end of useful life. Rather than experience a breaker failure during equipment operation, it is preferred to change out these breakers as part of a scheduled program. All of these breakers are in and around the Albuquerque metropolitan area, within the 115kV, 230kV and 345kV voltage classes.

Project Alternatives

The primary alternative is to utilize the existing breakers with a greater risk of failure as they continue to age. This option was not selected as parts for these older breakers are increasingly hard to find.

Technical Aspects

Outages are required to install these breakers and it is anticipated that only one breaker in a ring can be worked on at a time. The installation work will be on-going each year. Rather than clear all the work in late 2015, it is anticipated that smaller groups of breakers will be cleared as soon as they are in service. This places the clearing for that particular work closer to the in-service date of the equipment.

Project No: 64807713 115kV Breaker Replace Fault Current

Company: 002
Location: 648

Project Need Justification

Exposing a breaker to a fault that is significantly higher than its capabilities can result in a catastrophic failure of the breaker as well as damage to other equipment in the station yard. It also presents a safety issues for employees. Over time, it can be expected that there is some degradation in the ability of a breaker to resists a fault. Current studies to determine the necessary fault duty rating of critical breakers in the Albuquerque metropolitan area identified a number of breakers that require higher ratings. Many of these breakers are older oil filled circuit breakers and some date back to as early as 1957/58. The breakers are reaching the end of useful life.

Project Alternatives

None - these replacements are needed to ensure system reliability and reduce risk to PNM personnel.

Technical Aspects

Replace 115 kV circuit breakers that currently could be exposed to fault current greater than the breaker rating or within 94.5% of the breaker rating. These breakers are located in the metropolitan area at the North, Reeves, Person, Sandia, and West Mesa stations.

Project Need Justification

This project will continue system reliability improvements that will provide an additional transmission source into the fast growing area of northern Rio Rancho located in southwest Sandoval County (Northwest Albuquerque and the City of Rio Rancho area) during peak load periods. This project is a cost-effective step toward maximizing utilization of existing assets. The goal of the system expansion plan is to design a transmission system that maintains adequate and reliable service to new and existing PNM loads by limiting customer exposure for equipment outages. Requested funds will be allocated toward contract labor to install and energize the facilities, material purchase to include 2 power circuit breakers, motor operated switches, hand operated switches, conductor, relaying capacitor voltage transformer, structures, wire, cable, and other materials.

Project Alternatives

One alterative considered was constructing a second transmission path in an alternate location. Constructing a transmission line in an alternative location would increase line length and project costs. To provide the same benefits, a new routing would need to provide transmission capacity to loop the Progress Substation, be located for connection of future substations that can adequately serve the northern Rio Rancho area, and be of similar of shorter length. The existing route is also utilizing an existing utility corridor to minimize environmental impacts and right-of-way costs. A new route would require development of a new corridor and face significantly longer permitting times and would be more costly. The other alternative considered was rebuilding existing transmission facilities. Rebuilding existing transmission facilities would fail to provide a looped feed to the Progress Substation and would not result in transmission located appropriately to serve future Rio Rancho load growth. In addition, to achieve the equivalent amount of transfer capability, over 50 miles of existing facilities would need to be rebuilt at a cost easily exceeding $20,000,000.

Technical Aspects

Involves the design, purchase of equipment and right-of-way (“ROW”), and installation of necessary facilities to interconnect Rio Puerco 115 kV switching station to Progress 115 kV substations. The project will include the expansion of the Rio Puerco 115 kV station from a single breaker to a three terminal breaker ring bus for this transmission interconnection.

Project No: 64807913 115 kV Relay Replacement

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 6/15/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 07/31/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Replacement of older functionally obsolete electro-mechanical (EM) relays on the 115kV metro Albuquerque transmission system. EM relays are no longer well supported, have more stringent testing requirements, and require significant training for crews to perform maintenance. The speed and reliability of newer electronic equipment increase system functionality and reliability and enables PNM to meet compliance obligations more efficiently.

Project Alternatives

Continue to utilize existing equipment in spite of difficulties in performance, testing, and ability to repair. Waiting to replace upon failure places the system at risk and can result in extended outages.

Technical Aspects

Remove EM relay panels from control houses and replace panels equipped with new electronic relays.

Project No: 64808013 Metro Splice Replacement

Company: 002
Location: 648

Project Information

Construction Start Date 4/15/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 11/30/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Construction will replace exiting Metro OPGW fiber splice systems and fiber Distribution Panels with current technology. The existing splicing and fiber distribution panels were not designed to support the optical equipment (SONET) and line rates currently being deployed by PNM for the utility's transmission SCADA and protective relaying network. The upgraded replacement is required to maintain reliable communications for the Electric System.

Project Alternatives

No alternatives are available (technology upgrade)

Technical Aspects

The existing splicing and fiber distribution panels were not designed to support the optical equipment (SONET) and line rates currently being deployed by PNM for the utility's transmission SCADA and protective relaying network. The upgraded replacement is required to maintain reliable communications for the Electric System.

Project No: 64808213 SONET System Expansion

Company: 002
Location: 648

Project Information

Construction Start Date | In Service Date | Completion Date 02/15/14 | Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This project expands the existing SONET ring to connect recently constructed stations or to facilities that now can be accessed via fiber optic cable, due to recent fiber system improvements. Installation of this communications equipment is needed to support the conversion from a linear Microwave system to a protected SONET ring. The SONET ring system will provide looped protection for communication to these sites as well as assure sufficient capacity to address security/automation initiatives.

Project Alternatives

Continuing to utilize microwave systems which are inherently less secure, with less capacity, would be the only alternative. Also, if this project was not undertaken, the existing investment in fiber optic cable would be underutilized.

Technical Aspects

This project will expand SONET technology to currently unserved PNM switching station and generation station assets. The SONET system provides state of the art high speed communications for PNM's transmission SCADA operations as well as protective relaying for PNM's transmission network. SONET technology (through a looped protection plan) mitigates the possibility of the loss of communications to a PNM station or plant asset that could result from a fiber or single communication equipment failure. This is a significant reliability improvement.

Project No: 64808413 Spread Spectrum Radio Replacement

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 2/1/2015 In Service Date Completion Date 12/01/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Radios have reached the end of life, spare parts are difficult to acquire, and their signals are susceptible to interference as they are not regulated by the FCC. Loss of radio communications can result in loss of RTU and protective relaying data and possible NERC violations.

Project Alternatives

None - new radios are required

Technical Aspects

Replace spread spectrum radios with new licensed radios.

Project No: 64828113 Substation Remote Access

Company: 002
Location: 648

Project Information

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This is a pilot project to install and test a remote access system at the North substation. To remotely access relay and related protection data at key sites in accordance with NERC requirements, special equipment, architecture, and security enhancements must be installed.

Project Alternatives

The no improvement alternative leaves the system vulnerable for hours as crews may need to report to physical locations distant from staging areas. This ultimately leads to higher labor costs and distracts from needed repairs.

Technical Aspects

The system will be procured and run through the quality assurance procedures to test the efficacy of the system.

Project Need Justification

Purchase specialty Transmission Line Equipment and Vehicles needed to perform necessary capital and maintenance work on PNM's 115kV and 345kV transmission system. This equipment needs to be designed and built to accommodate the rough terrain and access issues to the transmission lines and system across the state of NM. The reliable development and operation of the PNM system requires 1) vehicles that can access remote sites 24/7/365 under difficult conditions, 2) highly specialized tools and testing equipment, and 3) specialized equipment to perform unique work. These items are not reasonably available on-call from local providers in either the time frame needed or with the features required to perform PNM's work. Risks of not purchasing this equipment include employee safety, extended outages, and customer service issues due to response time, and inability to perform work reliably and on a reasonable schedule.

Project Alternatives

Given the special design and features of this transmission line equipment, this equipment is not available for short term lease and/or could not be mobilized in an adequate time frame to accommodate emergent system failures. Manufactures do not carry an inventory of this type of specialty equipment. This equipment is built specifically to PNM's design specifications to accommodate the type of work, and locations of the work that must be performed on PNM's transmission system. Alternatives considered include using existing unsafe equipment, engaging equipment on a project by project basis (if it's available), or waiting to get to equipment/personnel to job sites. In terms of safety, cost, and outage considerations, these were not deemed feasible.

Technical Aspects

Specify and purchase equipment. Years 2013-2015 are part of the approved LRP.

Project Need Justification

This project is for PNM's share of annual capital improvements or replacements associated with the San Juan-Vail Joint Transmission project. PNM has a contractual obligation to the operating agent (TEP) to pay for these costs prorated on PNM's percent ownership. While specific replacements are not defined, typical work would include replacement of failed or functionally obsolete equipment such as breakers, capacitors, switches, and relays. Work might also include capital improvements to the lines such as veg management, access, or structure replacements. Also this would include capital improvements required to meet emerging NERC security requirements.

Project Alternatives

While PNM has a contractual obligation, PNM also is represented with other participants on an engineering and operating committee (E&O), and as such has input regarding decisions and timing of these capital expenditures. While the SJ-Vail transmission project is interconnected to other lines in the WECC, PNM does not have an alternative transmission path(s) that would eliminate the need to participate in the SJ-Vail system.

Technical Aspects

Technical aspects are evaluated by the operating agent and submitted for consideration of the E&O committee. The SJ-Vail transmission project is a path which includes multiple lines and stations. The E&O committee considers the affect of specific proposals against the overall performance of the connected system.

PNM's share of capital improvements/replacements associated with participation in the Arizona Nuclear Power Project (contractual obligation). Work may include such things as replacement of failed equipment, betterments to satisfy new regulatory requirements, or improve reliability and safety.

Project Alternatives

Operating agent proposes specific projects which are individually reviewed and approved by an E&O committee consisting of the project's owners.it'

Technical Aspects

As a participant in ANPP, PNM has capacity rights in certain switching stations and transmission lines that represent the contractual path. Capital improvements might involve any aspect of that path, and could include transmission structure replacement for improved clearances or breaker replacement at a station to obtain improved fault ratings.

Project Need Justification

This project will improve reliability. Several 345/115 kV transformers on the PNM system are over 30 years old. Both the original West Mesa and Sandia transformer have had some tap change problems and loss of either of these transformers would put the system at an N-0for several months. There is always the possibility that catastrophic failure of a transformer could damage adjacent equipment and further exasperate the contingency condition. While the transformers are well maintained, there is never certainty on the health of the unit.

Project Alternatives

The alternative would be to continue with current equipment, which poses a reliability risk.

Technical Aspects

The most significant exposures that PNM faces today with respect to the spare transformer are:
--- The cost of operating loadside resources as a result of reduction in transmission capability if one of the existing Albuquerque bulk transformers is forced out of service. Loss of any one of these transformers would result in running loadside generation for the majority of the year. Under normal operating conditions, loadside resources are operated only under peak load conditions. Replacement of a transformer this size can take up to 36 months.
--- PNM is in need of spare transformer capacity to help assure the reliability of the system. The manufacturers have indicated that manufacture and delivery of a transformer of this size is anywhere from 18 to 36 months.
---San Juan generation plant has long held a spare generation step-up transformer on site to ensure timely replacement to reduce exposure to the participants of an extended step-up transformer outage that will remove a generator unit from service pending the procurement and replacement of the transformer.

--- The Edison Electric Institute (EEI) has coordinated a Spare Transformer Equipment Program (STEP) to assess the adequacy of the United States electric transmission system's ability to withstand a major terrorist attack. Based on the results of that assessment, PNM entered into the Spare Transformer Sharing Agreement with numerous other large electric utilities across the country, on March 15, 2006, committing PNM to acquire adequate spare transformer capacity, based on a defined industry-wide worst case scenario. Per the Agreement PNM is obligated to acquire 343 MVA of additional 345/115 kV transformation capacity. With the addition of the Rio Puerco 448 MVA bulk transformer, PNM will be able to meet its STEP obligation. If the Rio Puerco transformer is required to be moved at some future time pursuant to the obligations of this Agreement, PNM will then relocate one of the Hidalgo 224 MVA bulk transformers to Rio Puerco and acquire a second bulk transformer when the Rio Puerco-Progress 115 kV line is energized in 2014. The second transformer is required at Rio Puerco since the MVA requirements will be higher than 224 MVA. The need for PNM to acquire a spare transformer in or after 2014 will be evaluated based on future STEP agreement obligations and system needs Acquiring a spare transformer will be a long-term solution to the STEP agreement.

Project Need Justification

There is no way to sectionalize the AT line between Person station in Albuquerque, and Tome station in Belen. There are three unit substations on this line, all of which must be taken out of service during an outage. The installation of this breaker will allow the AT line to be sectionalized if a problem occurs on one part of the line, ensuring that either Palace and El Cerro or Manzano substations remain in service to support load in the area in the event of a forced outage or planned maintenance of the AT line.

Project Alternatives

An alternative is developing a new 115kV line from the Tome or Pearson Station into the El Cerro Substation. This option would require more time to acquire and purchase transmission line easements, and additional costs to expand one of the 115kV stations and the El Cerro Substation site in order to address the same technical concerns as the preferred option.

Technical Aspects

This project will install a 115 kV breaker at the El Cerro Substation, on the line side that connects to Manzano Substation. Palace, El Cerro and Manzano substations are interconnected to the Person-Tome 115 kV Line (AT Line).

Project Need Justification

This project is needed to improve the reliability and maintainability of the Los Morros Substation and the WB line. In the event of a permanent fault on the WB line, the entire line including Los Morros Substation would be forced out of service until the fault is found and isolated. In 2012, this occurred three separate times, with each event resulting in an outage of approximately 1-4 hours. Furthermore, due to the magnitude of the load on the two Los Morros 115-12.47 KV distribution transformers, it is not usually possible to accomplish full restoration via distribution switching to adjacent stations.

Project Alternatives

There are only two unit transformers on the 35 mile WB line between West Mesa station in Albuquerque, and Belen station in Belen, and they are both located within the walls of Los Morros substation. There are no other cost effective and technically preferred alternatives.

Technical Aspects

This project will install a 115 kV breaker at the Los Morros Substation that will allow PNM to electrically separate the two unit substations transformers for outages on the 115kV WB line. The 115 KV breaker will allow Los Morros substation to be served radial from either West Mesa or Belen in the event of a line outage or planned maintenance.

Project No: 65007110 Misc. Transmission

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date N/A

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Blanket improvement authorization for capital replacements or betterments associated with transmission lines. Typical work might include replacement of damaged porcelain insulators with a more robust non-ceramic insulator, or replacement of a structure to provide enhanced clearances. Various tasks are undertaken to improve reliability, maintainability or enhance safety.

Project Alternatives

Each task which is written is evaluated on its own. Alternatives considered might include "do nothing" or risk of failure assessment.

Technical Aspects

Technical aspects are considered on a task by task basis, but might include improved lightning performance from enhanced grounding, or improved clearances provided by the installation of taller poles.

Project No: 65007114 Sandoval County Landfill Relocation

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 11/3/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 10/30/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

PNM's existing CE and CY 115kv line ROWs cross the center of the Sandoval County landfill, effectively limiting the capacity of the landfill. Sandoval County will gain years of added landfill life by paying PNM to relocate the existing lines to the edge of the landfill property.

Project Alternatives

PNM prepared cost estimates for various alignments and designs. The proposal which Sandoval County selected gave them the maximum increase in landfill capacity for a reasonable cost compared to creating a new landfill at a different location.

Technical Aspects

Relocate lines from inside the landfill to the edge of the landfill property will entail installing new structures in clean soil and in an alignment that does not adversely impact an adjacent gas line corridor.

Project Need Justification

The EIP consists of a 216 mile, 345 kV transmission line between PNM's bulk power switching station north of Bernalillo, New Mexico ("BA Station") and a high voltage DC converter station, called Blackwater Station, located in the Clovis-Portales area of eastern New Mexico, plus associated switching equipment and the Blackwater Station's HVDC converter facilities. Lack of full ownership of the EIP and thus the long term control of its use, has created delay in processing of applications and transmission service requests, and has created tension between PNM and customers wanting to connect to PNM's transmission system. On July 5, 2012, the FERC issued an Order in response to a complaint filed by one of PNM's Interconnection Customers against PNM and Tortoise, directing PNM and Tortoise (the 40% owner) to identify the party responsible for immediately providing long-term transmission service over the 40% owned portion of the EIP. PNM agreed to buy the 40% interest at book value from Tortosie by April 1, 2015. Full ownership provides the following benefits.

•PNM would exercise unfettered control of facilities. Full ownership would allow PNM to be in control of all decisions concerning the EIP facilities including its use and its operations and maintenance, and would remove cumbersome and time-consuming joint ownership issues. This is important for issues for the life extension or replacement of the Blackwater Station, a specialized station (very different from a typical substation), that requires substantial investment to maintain and operate.

•Ownership would enhance PNM's ability to sell the 400 MW of transmission service (as the sole transmission provider) from Blackwater to Four Corners under a single system rate, rather than trying to sell 400 MW from BA to Four Corners, that requires a separate deal, at a separate rate, for the portion of service from Blackwater to BA, with the owner of the 40% ownership interest in EIP. Acquisition will resolve previously stalled processing of the PNM transmission service queue by making the 400 MW available to customers via PNM's OASIS.

•PNM would pay net book value ("NBV") on the date of the lease termination, and there would be no acquisition premium, and therefore minimum risk of cost disallowance. The revenue requirement under a NBV buyout is no more than the cost of extending the lease under the lease agreement in year one, and is substantially less in future years.

•Acquisition of the 40% interest resolves the leasehold improvement accounting exposure (avoids write-off of $5.5 million in April 2015), though leasehold improvements would transfer to the lessor if the lessor retains ownership. Acquisition also resolves the "severable" versus "non-severable" capital addition issue, which could result in additional write-offs if lessor retains ownership.

•PNM has the opportunity at this time to make a strategic move that could have long-term benefits from a financial perspective by having the EIP line and facilities in rate base, and would advance our posture within New Mexico and the region as a facilitator of clean, renewable energy.

•Ownership will also provide positive intangible benefits to PNM, the State and the region by ensuring this facility can be fully integrated with the “bigger picture” plans being considered for the regional delivery of renewable energy. It resolves the regional wholesale market issue by eliminating the uncertainty over how the transmission will be made available putting PNM in a favorable position with both the FERC and renewable energy community.

Project Alternatives

NMPRC approval is not required because approval was given in the original 1985 transaction authorization for PNM to exercise of the End-of-Lease Options provided in the lease.PNM considered exercising the End-of-Lease Options under the Lease Agreement (Extended Lease Term and FMV Purchase). The lease extension period is not long enough to provide service to an interconnecting generator. A FMV purchase, given the appraisal process and procedure proscribed in the lease, may likely result in a purchase price significantly higher than net book value. (Therefore, PNM negotiated that net book value, as of April 2015, will be FMV as provided for in the existing Lease Agreement and no appraisal process is required to determine FMV).

Technical Aspects

Purchase the remaining 40% of the Eastern Interconnection Project ("EIP") lease (see above).

Project No: 65007220 San Juan Shunt Reastor Circuit Breaker

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 2/1/2011 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Reactors, which are used to control the voltage on transmission lines, are switched in and out of the circuit as system conditions warrant. The switching devices for both the OJ and WW line reactors have failed and cannot be reliably repaired. This project will install a circuit breaker to switch the OJ reactor and an RL switcher to switch the WW reactor.

Project Alternatives

Repair parts for the existing switching devices are no longer available. Complete replacement is the only viable solution.

Technical Aspects

Shunt reactors are inserted in to transmission line circuits during times of low electrical loading to help keep the line voltage from going too high. This is especially important on long lines where the voltage increase is much more pronounced. Without the ability to control the voltage a transmission line that has tripped off line, might not be able to be reenergized, as the line voltage could exceed the capacity of the end equipment.

Project No: 65007313 Blackwater 230kV Transformer repair

Company: 002
Location: Clovis

Project Information

Construction Start Date 12/28/2012 In Service Date Completion Date 04/02/14

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

The Blackwater HVDC station provides transmission connectivity to the Eastern grid and is a significant source of power both import and export from the PNM system. The 230kV transformation is provided by three single-phase units and one spare unit. These 1985 vintage transformers are a unique design and not manufactured today. Very few repair shops have the expertise to work on this type of transformer. One of the in-service 230kV transformers faulted and tripped off line on an over pressure relay in Spring 2012. Further internal investigation revealed a faulted bus bar due to deteriorated insulation. The presence of copper beads was found in the tank. This is an indication that beads may also be lodged in the windings. Without repair of this unit there is no spare. Loss of another 230kV transformer would take the Blackwater HVDC completely out-of-service for many months and likely more than a year. PNM has wheeling agreements that utilize this path. The Blackwater installation itself is in joint ownership with the requirement that PNM operate and maintain the system in a reliable manner.

Project Alternatives

No other alternatives were considered because without repair of this unit there is no spares and leaves the system vulnerable. Loss of another 230kV transformer would take the Blackwater HVDC completely out-of-service for many months and likely more than a year.

Technical Aspects

This project involves remanufacture the existing transformer, which includes clean and flush all accessible areas of the coils, clean all reusable coil assemblies, replace with a new top and/or bottom new coil washer assemblies and/or coils washer block assemblies not suitable for reuse. Clean exposed core lamination edges and removed step blocks that were removed during the disassembly process. Re-insulate the core in kind, load the original windings on the core, re-install the top yoke and clamps (frame), Replace all existing conduit system junction points with NEMA Standard “CONDULET” fittings. Conduit components and fittings shall be dust tight and watertight. Modify the existing COPS tanks to accept new oil level indicating gauges for both LTC diverter switch and Main transformer. Replace the existing COPS tank air cell with new including all COPS tank gaskets. Test and Calibrate the exiting winding temperature thermometer provided reuse is acceptable. Remove the existing Bourden tube style gauge and replace with a new ETM. Replace the existing core ground bushing assembly and provide a new core ground bushing installed in a covered housing. Supply new bushing terminal connectors. Re-gasket and clean all radiators and radiator header banks. Replace all “oil to air gaskets” on the main tank and cover. The remanufacture shall provide for a rating of 43.8/58.4/73 MVA, 230/24

kV, OA/OAF/OAF, 55/65º C.

Project Need Justification

The purpose of La Mirada Substation is to provide normal and backup capacity in the area currently served by St. Joseph & Unser substations in Albuquerque, NM. Currently for an outage of St. Joseph 12 and Unser 14, there is a risk of leaving load unserved during an outage of either St. Joseph or Unser Substations.

Project Alternatives

One alternative considered was to locate the substation at 98th and Ladera. The project selected is the preferred alternative because of the centralized location to existing load. The 98th and Ladera location is southwest of the Project and would primarily support future growth to the west of 98th and Ladera. If this alternative was chosen only two of four feeders from a 98th and Ladera Substation could be effectively used to unload Unser feeder 14 and to provide backup support to the area. A second alternative considered was to install a second transformer at the existing Unser Substation. The transformer could be used to provide backup support for an Unser Unit I transformer outage. However, there are physical impediments on both sides of Unser substation limiting feeder routes. The Ladera Golf Course to the east of Unser makes it difficult for Unser Unit II feeders to support a St Joseph Substation outage. The Petroglyph National Monument to the west does not allow Unser Unit II feeders to support load growth west of Unser Substation. Also costly express feeders would need to be built to support load growth to the south of Unser Substation making this option unviable.

Technical Aspects

Provide transmission service to the new La Mirada Substation from the 115kV WB or BW line depending on final location of property purchased. Both 115kV lines exit West Mesa Station and cross Unser Blvd. near the proposed location.

Project No: 65007413 Replace Blwtr 230 345kV CVTs

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 2/12/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 11/01/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Current/voltage instrument transformers are critical to the reliable operation of the transmission grid. The particular devices located at the Blackwater converter station have reached end-of-life, are beginning to fail and provide poor readings. They are not repairable. To continue the operation of the station in a prudent manner and meet contractual transfer obligations, replacement is recommended.

Project Alternatives

Alternative is to wait for complete failure. This would take the station off-line for several months and is not deemed a prudent alternative.

Technical Aspects

Replace outdated current/voltage instrument transformers with new equipment.

Project Need Justification

This project covers the work to be performed in 2013 for line clearance upgrades needed for thirteen transmission lines owned and operated by PNM. The 2013 work scope and schedule are to fulfill PNM's commitments for North American Electric Reliability Corporation Compliance based on conclusions reached from analysis activities required by a 2010 NERC action request.

Project Alternatives

There are no cost effective alternatives to the proposed clearance improvements on the existing lines. Installing new facilities instead of performing upgrades would have much greater economic and environmental impacts and would potentially require years of lead time. The majority of work required for the clearance improvements can be completed without outages maximizing reliability during construction.

Technical Aspects

The National Electric Reliability Corporation (NERC) issued an alert in October 2010 for "Consideration of Actual Field Conditions in Determination of Line Ratings". Basically this is an alert to verify that existing PNM conductor clearances adequately support the planning and operations ratings used on the transmission system. PNM initiated studies in 2011 to verify clearance adequacy of PNM's existing 115 kV and higher transmission lines. The lines were classified into "high", "medium" and "low" priority lines prior to performing the verification studies based on the potential reliability impact to the bulk electric system and whether past upgrades to the lines resulted in recent knowledge of the overall sag condition of a line. In responding to NERC's requirements, high priority lines were scheduled for improvements to address clearance deficiencies in 2012, medium priority lines in 2013 and low priority lines in 2014.
The PNM studies identified sag clearance improvement needs on numerous lines to support planning and operating ratings and implemented corrections to the high priority lines in 2012. This work to be performed in 2013 for deficiencies identified on the thirteen "medium priority" lines listed below.

1. Algodones-Tap (ANZ Algodones) 115 kV Line - 37.2 miles
2. BA-STA (RL) 115 kV Line - 39.5 miles
3. Person-West Mesa (PW) 115 kV Line - 12.75 miles
4. Sandia-Kirtland (KS) 115 kV Line - 2.4 miles

5. Reeves-West Mesa (NW) 115 kV Line - 10.1 miles
6. Person-Volcano (PM) 115 kV Line - 10.1 miles
7. Prager-North (PN) 115 kV Line - 5.3 miles
8. Person-Kirtland (PS) 115 kV Line - 9.3 miles
9. West Mesa-Volcano (WV) 115 kV Line - 5.2 miles
10. Pilar-Gallegos (GC) 230 kV Line - 7.5 miles
11. Person-Tome (AT) 115 kV Line - 26.9 miles
12. Alamogordo-Amrad (AR) 115 kV Line - 30.95 miles
13. Hidalgo-Lordburg (LB) 115 kV Line - 7.6 miles

Clearance improvements will be achieved through use of Phaseraise technology and pole replacements. These improvements essentially raise the height of critical spans to increase the clearance levels

Project Need Justification

Technical studies demonstrate that without this project PNM will be in violation of NERC Transmission Planning compliance standards (TPL). Non-compliance with NERC standards could subject PNM to fines that can range from a few thousand dollars to several hundred thousand dollars for each day PNM remains in violation. This fine could be adjusted upward to a maximum of one million dollars a day per violation depending on the degree of the violations, number of time of occurrence and other factors of the violation. The requested funds will be allocated toward the purchase of land and equipment to include circuit breakers, surge arrestors, hand operated switches, motor operated switches, coupling capacitor voltage transformer, capacitor bank, control building, wire, control cable, conductor, towers, structures, relays, and contract labor .

Project Alternatives

One alternative considered was the addition of a new 115 kV transmission line to Moriarty. Addition of a new line would greatly exceed the cost of the capacitor addition, would require a lengthy permitting process, and would have significantly greater environmental impacts. The other alternative considered was upgrading the existing 115 kV line serving the area. Upgrades of existing 115 kV facilities would not significantly improve voltage performance.

Technical Aspects

Recent technical studies of the transmission system have shown that load growth will result in low voltages on the central New Mexico transmission system following the loss of the Belen-Willard 115 kV line or segment outages of the Algodones to Willard 115 kV line. Low voltages are a violation of NERC standard TPL-002. Transmission Planning has determined that installing shunt capacitors in the area is the most cost effective mitigation for this violation. The project scope includes construction of a new 115 kV station site due to restrictions around the existing Tri-State owned Moriarity station.

Project No: 65007513 CE/AL Replacement Crossarms

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 8/1/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 03/31/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Inspection has revealed that approximately 25% of the existing tangent cross-arms on the CE and AL 115kv lines were severely deteriorated and approaching structural failure. Such failures would not only result in sustained outages, but could also be a hazard to the public.

Project Alternatives

Selective replacement was rejected due to the continued risk of failure of a cross-arm with undetected damage.

Technical Aspects

Existing timber cross-arms will be replaced with steel truss tops which will improve the overall capacity and life of the structures for all tangents.

Project No: 65007514 Station hardening

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/16/2015 In Service Date Completion Date 12/15/18 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

4 W.O>s per year, essentially one each quarter.

Project Need Justification

Many stations in the PNM service grid have experienced vandalism and/or metal theft. The damage to the station can result in an unsafe operating condition, ruin equipment, require equipment to be taken off line, and be a safety issue for utility crews. The cost of the metal replacement is typically minor compared to these other issues. The station Hardening effort is to detect and deter unauthorized entrance into switchyards. Since the initiation of this FP, NERC has developed requirements for physical security and this FP will meet those requirements.

Project Alternatives

As part of this effort another project "Pilot" is underway to determine the most cost effective alternatives for surveillance, and physical hardening at various types of stations. The no action alternative is not considered viable.

Technical Aspects

Install cameras that report back to security center, install lights, strengthen gates, install motion detectors. Automate data collection of activity at stations.

Project No: 65007616 Transmission Access Improvements

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 4/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 11/15/17 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

work will be cleared to plant as it is completed.

Project Need Justification

Access to critical lines/structures has deteriorated over the years. In addition, relatively recent requirements for environmental issues have made re-developing access in-place more difficult. Land-use has changed resulting in more fences and inability to reach lines. This is especially critical if a line outage should occur.

Project Alternatives

Create access at the time of an emergency. This is not viable in terms of time or meeting environmental requirements.

Technical Aspects

Environmental studies and documentation, access easement acquisition, road development including drainage structures and gates.

Project Need Justification

On August 21, 2011, the FW 345kV line 65 MVAR, 345kV shunt reactor lock-out protection scheme in the Four Corners 345kV Switchyard initiated a trip of the FW 345kV line. Arizona Public Service (APS) determined that the reactor lockout was initiated by a reactor winding over-temperature condition caused by the loss of the AC power supply to the reactor's four cooler packages. APS provided annotated photos of the reactor identifying pre-existing oil leaks, a large tank wall seam leak, low oil level, and failed cooler pumps in need of re-conditioning. PNM's investigations of the APS-supplied operations and maintenance records pointed out past instances of operation being impacted by failed cooling packages.

Project Alternatives

APS provided a quotation of $305,000 to re-condition the cooling packages; however, the ability to return the reactor to reliable long-term service has been compromised by the tank wall seam breach. The existing reactor is of a shell-form design that inhibits non-destructive core and coil removal for the proper repair of the tank.

Technical Aspects

PNM has a 35 MVAR oil-filled shunt reactor in storage with a 362kV, self-cooled rating; this unit has new windings, refurbished core packs, new cores in the bushings, and no cooling packages requiring AC power supply. PNM has consulted with General Electric Infrastructure, Energy to assess the use of the 35 MVAR reactor and the required de-energization of one of the reactors on the FW line when the FW line must be de-energized. General Electric has confirmed that parallel resonance, due to the WW 345kV line remaining energized, will be avoided with the de-energization procedure. On March 23, 2011, APS advised PNM to consider the replacement of the 345kV circuit switcher associated with the FW 345kV shunt reactor. The manufacturer no longer supports parts replacement for this early version of the circuit switcher and the available parts on the market are difficult to acquire. APS advised it would not be performing its scheduled major maintenance procedure on the circuit switcher as the process could possibly result in testing damages that could not be restored.

Project Need Justification

This project provides discretionary funds for the Transmission Substation Supervisor to replace or upgrade ageing or obsolete Transmission Substation Equipment on PNM's electric distribution system. These projects are typically small projects that would require little or no engineering support. Some examples would be replacing or upgrading substation transformer components such as primary bushings, load tap changer upgrades or replacements, replacing ageing transmission circuit breakers, or upgrading ageing equipment such as station arrestors, capacitor switching equipment, bus insulators, station capacitors, capacitive voltage transformers, and station battery replacements in Transmission Substations. The fund also covers costs for projects that extend the life of substation equipment, such as replacing all of the gasketing on station transformers or performing bushing replacements.

Project Alternatives

The alternative to providing discretionary funding for Supervisory management of small projects would be to have all system equipment upgrades and replacement of obsolete equipment, regardless of scope, go through the same process for all of the capital projects, which would dramatically reduce the ability to address critical upgrades and replacement of failed or obsolete communication equipment.

Technical Aspects

The technical aspects of this project involve subject matter expert (supervisor) identifying critical transmission substation equipment that is in need of replacement or upgrade due to obsolescence, ordering the material and coordinating work to accomplish the upgrade or repair of the component. The projects vary depending upon need, but cover the range of work described in the justification section above.

Project No: 65007713 Trans Sub Ground Repairs

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 4/4/2012 In Service Date Completion Date 12/20/18 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Work at each affected station will be cleared to plant as work is completed. Estimates 4 stations per year.

Project Need Justification

Vandalism and metal theft continues to occur on PNM's transmission system. Repairs are time consuming and expensive, but must be performed quickly in order to maintain the safe operation of the system as well as the safety of PNM's field employees.

Project Alternatives

Various alternatives were evaluated to provide a hardened grounding system that is not as susceptible to damage. However, the "no action" alternative is not feasible in this case.

Technical Aspects

Replace stolen metal downleads and repair/replace damaged equipment. Methods for hardening the grounding system include use of copperweld, covering downleads, or camouflaging downleads.

Project Need Justification

In response to North American Electric Reliability Corporation requested action in 2010, PNM initiated efforts in 2011 to study and correct clearance risks that could limit capability on PNM's existing 115 kV and higher transmission lines. The lines were classified into ""high"", ""medium"" and ""low"" priority lines with a schedule to address clearance risks on high priority lines in 2012, medium priority lines in 2013 and low priority lines in 2014. The PNM studies identified clearance improvement needs on numerous lines to support planning and operating ratings and implemented corrections to the high priority lines in 2012 and medium priority lines in 2013. This work to be performed in 2014 for deficiencies identified on two of the nine low priority lines, they are shown below:
1. Yah-Ta-Hey to Pitt Midway (YP) 115kV Line
2. Yah-Ta-Hey to Coal Mine (YN) 115kV Line
The schedule for improving the clearance or perform other mitigation efforts of these lines is December 2014 or earlier to comply with NERC deadlines.
This project is in line with PNM's Strategic Direction focusing on fundamentals (Compliance and Reliability) by maintaining compliance with mandatory NERC and Western Electricity Coordination Council (WECC) planning and operating standards. This project supports the PNMR Corporate Strategic Value of safety for ourselves, our co-workers, our customers, and our communities.

Project Alternatives

Clearance improvements will be achieved through use of Phaseraise technology and pole replacements. These improvements essentially raise the height of critical spans to increase the clearance levels

Technical Aspects

Project Need Justification

This project is to serve the area south of Hwy 263 to Marquez Rd. and east of the Rio Grande River in southeast Valencia County by developing a new distribution substation. The new substation is recommended due to existing demand and is expected to support growth along the Hwy 47 corridor and the Manzano Expressway. Tome, Manzano and El Cerro Substations are currently providing the distribution delivery capacity for this area. College Substation will provide backup capacity to the afore mentioned substations. Currently a Manzano Substation outage during peak load periods would overload the adjacent area El Cerro and Tome Substation transformers by over 180 hours per year. This project will greatly simplify operation of the system, by eliminating several supplemental cascading load transfers presently utilized, minimize outage restoration times and allow distribution operations more certainty that adjacent facilities, required to accomplish the proposed restoration, will be available when needed. .

Project Alternatives

Two alternatives were considered:
The first was to install a unit two transformer at the existing Manzano Substation. A Manzano Unit II option could be used to provide backup support for Manzano Unit I and Tome Substation. However, due to the length of the feeders from Tome Substation to the existing Manzano Substation, voltage levels will remain on the low side of the acceptable voltage range for contingency situations. Any additional load growth would require additional distribution feeder voltage support improvements. This option would also only allow two new feeders from a second unit at Manzano Substation that could be effectively used at this time to unload Manzano Feeder 11 and 13 and to provide backup support to the area.
The second alternative considered was to install a unit two transformer at the existing El Cerro Substation. An El Cerro Unit II option could be used to provide backup support for El Cerro Unit I and Manzano. The proposed feeders brought out of the substation do not help resolve issues associated with Tome Substation outages to the south which is a less efficient use of the new transformer capacity in comparison to the preferred alternative. This location does not alleviate the long length of the feeders between Tome Substation and Manzano substation, so voltage levels will initially be on the low side of the acceptable voltage range for contingency situations. Any additional load growth would require additional distribution feeder voltage support improvements. Again, this alternative has only two feeders that could be effectively used to unload El Cerro 12 and Manzano 11 and to provide backup support to the area.

Technical Aspects

This project has a transmission tap to the AT transmission line in the vicinity of the UNM Valencia College.

Project No: 65007914 Relay IA

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/6/2014 In Service Date Completion Date N/A

List Interim In-Service Dates

3 times per year

Project Need Justification

FThis project funds small equipment upgrades and replacements for transmission relays and related protection equipment such as DFR's.

Project Alternatives

Approve projects as they come up. For jobs of this size, this approach is not feasible. Protection equipment that fails must be replaced.

Technical Aspects

Fully operation protection and control systems are part of NERC and BES good practices and in some cases, requirements.

Project No: 65008014 TWS Upgrade

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 8/15/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/20/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

The existing TWS is unreliable. Often several locations are out-of-service and the devices require significant maintenance. Transmission line outages are extended when the location of the fault cannot be accurately and readily pinpointed.

Project Alternatives

Use relay targets and try to keep as much of the existing TWS operational as possible.

Technical Aspects

Work with vendors to determine a suitable upgrade for this system and then install.

Project No: 65008114 PNM Facilities Sale to City of Gall

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 4/24/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

None

Project Need Justification

The City of Gallup (Gallup) elected not to extend their Electric Service Agreement (ESA) with PNM Merchant and executed a new contract with another supplier effective June 30, 2014. A provision in the ESA enabled Gallup to purchase certain PNM Facilities (including five substations, transmission lines and associated equipment to serve Gallup) after terminating the ESA. In order for the purchase and sale of PNM Facilities to be completed, PNM and Gallup had to undergo an Appraisal Process to determine the fair value price for the PNM Facilities. The Appraisal Process is expected to be completed by December 31, 2014. The estimated value of the PNM Facilities to be sold to Gallup is $4 million. A NMPRC filing will not be required since these PNM Facilities were never used to serve retail customers or included in NM jurisdictional rates. A FERC filing will also not be required since the estimated value of the PNM Facilities is below the $10 million threshold that would necessitate a FERC filing. The project funds will be used to coordinate the Appraisal Process, develop the Sale Agreement and complete the purchase and sale of the PNM Facilities including any required legal support.

Project Alternatives

None-Contract requirement to sell PNM Facilities in Gallup

Technical Aspects

An appraisal will need to be completed to provide a fair market value determination of certain PNM facilities serving the City of Gallup, NM. PNM has five Gallup area substations; Noe, Allison, Sunshine, Fort Wingate and Mendoza that will be included in the sale as well as any other related PNM Facilities equipment. An Appraisal Services contractor will determine a fair market value of the PNM facilities serving Gallup, taking into account original cost, vintage year, replacement value and a complete inventory of equipment from each substation. Also included in the sale are facilities that make up each of the two 115 kV radial line taps from PNM's Ambrosia to Yah-Ta-Hey ("AY") 115 kV line that serve Allison, Noe and Sunshine Substation facilities and the PNM tap segments used to provide service to Fort Wingate and Mendoza Substation from the Tri-State Escalante to Yah-Ta-Hey ("GYTH") 115kV line. A Final Report will include the final fair market valuation of the substations, related equipment and line taps serving the five substations. The Appraisal Process requires PNM and Gallup to hire their own appraisers and compare appraisals in order to determine a fair value price for the PNM Facilities. If the appraisals are within 10%, then PNM and Gallup will negotiate a final fair value price for the PNM Facilities. If the appraisals are greater than 10%, then a 3rd appraiser will be hired to complete a 3rd appraisal which will be used to determine the final fair value price for the PNM Facilities.

Project No: 65008211 Replace OJO 345/115 kv transformer

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 6/1/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 10/30/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

The Ojo 345/115 kV transformer serves as a major bulk power interconnection for the northeastern New Mexico 115 kV system. The northeastern New Mexico load area includes the PNM loads in Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Clayton, the Los Alamos County loads, and the Tristate Generation and Transmission Association, Inc. (TSGT) member cooperative loads serving numerous communities including Dulce, Chama, Taos, Espanola, Springer and large industrial loads in far northeast New Mexico. The Ojo 345/115 kV transformer has a history of excessive build-up of combustible gasses and has been de-rated to 180 MVA. Frequent de-gassing of this transformer is necessary to maintain the concentration of dissolved combustible gases to a level that is considered safe. The rate of gassing is expected to increase due to forecasted transformer loading increase over time. The gassing problems create a high probability of transformer failure, thereby presenting a safety hazard and risking the ability to service loads in the northeast New Mexico area. Gassing of a transformer can occur due to localized heating caused by design flaws or internal faults within the transformer. The localized heating causes the breakdown of insulating oil, creating various combustible gases and potentially leading to damage to the coil insulation. Due to the long replacement time required for a 345/115 kV transformer, failure of the transformer would jeopardize service to PNM, Los Alamos and Tri-State customers with an almost certain need to disconnect loads during more common transmission line outage that will likely occur during the replacement period. Outage of the Ojo 345/115 kV transformer also significantly reduces PNM's import capability into northern New Mexico and would substantially increase the need for gas-fired generation utilized in the Albuquerque area.

Project Alternatives

A "No Action" alternative would results in continued gassing of the transfer at an increasing and potentially unpredictable rate. The buildup of dissolved combustible gases is a safety and reliably risk. There are no cost effective alternatives to replacement of the transformer. Repair of the transformer is not considered feasible since studies have associated the gassing issues to a design flaw in this transformer model.

Technical Aspects

To ensure safety, continued system reliably and adequate northern New Mexico import capability, PNM will replace the existing Ojo 345/115 kV transformer with a new 300 MVA 345/115 kV transformer. The transformer will be installed by expanding the existing Ojo 345 kV switching station so that the existing transformer may remain in service throughout the construction process.

Project No: 65008313 345kV Structure Grounding Impr

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 3/3/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/30/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

The existing structure grounds on wood pole tangent structures have been prone to charring which could eventually lead to pole fires in areas where the ground wires pass through high electrical fields. The addition of grading hoops in the areas of high electrical fields will reduce the chance of heating on the tips of ground wire attachment clips. This work can be performed while the lines remain energized.

Project Alternatives

Complete replacement of the existing structure grounds could not be safely done with the line energized. A sustained outage is not feasible.

Technical Aspects

Use of grading hoops is well established and a cost effective solution.

Project Need Justification

Breaker 19292 used to switch capacitor bank #1 onto the 115kV MA transmission line, has reached it end of useful life. System Engineering is recommending replacing the breaker before it fails and forces the capacitor bank out of service. In addition, it is currently necessary to send crew 100 miles each way from Albuquerque to Ambrosia Lake station, near Milan, NM to switch in the capacitor banks. As capacitor bank #2 has been out of service for several months, it would need to be repair prior to putting it back in service. Operations have indicated that both capacitors are no longer needed; therefore, capacitor bank #2 can be retired.

Project Alternatives

Continue to repair the breaker as necessary, with parts increasingly hard to find for this old breaker design. Continue to send crew the approximately 100 miles each way from Albuquerque to Ambrosia Lake station near Milan, NM. This option was not chosen so that the costs of continual maintenance and delays getting crew to the site can be minimized.

Technical Aspects

Replace breaker 19292 and retire capacitor bank #2. capacitor bank #2 will be used a spare parts.

Project Need Justification

PNM provides generator interconnection service to its transmission system pursuant to the interconnection procedures prescribed by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC") and contained in PNM's Open Access Transmission Tariff ("OATT"). The Large Generator Interconnection Procedures ("LGIP") of the OATT set out the application requirements and the mutual obligations of PNM and any eligible customer seeking generator interconnection. PNM is required, per FERC regulations, to provide generator interconnection service on a non-discriminatory basis to any eligible customer that meets the criteria outlined in PNM's OATT. Under the procedures, PNM is required to use due diligence to implement the interconnection, and will construct (or cause to be constructed) and own the Network Upgrades and transmission provider interconnection facilities required to interconnect a generating facility to the grid. The purpose of this Project is to construct the necessary facilities to interconnect the proposed 102 MW Wind Generating Facility of NextEra to the PNM transmission system. The requested funds will be allocated toward the purchase of equipment to include circuit breakers, hand operated and motor operated switches, potential transformer, current transformer, coupling capacitor voltage transformer, wire, control cable, conductor, towers, structures, and contract labor.

Project Alternatives

PNM has no decision-making authority regarding the Interconnection Customer's selection of siting for it proposed generating facility, and PNM's role is generally restricted to using good utility practice in designing and building the interconnection facilitates and network upgrades, based on the Interconnection Customer's selected site.

Technical Aspects

The goal of the system expansion plan is to interconnect the NextEra 102 MW wind generating facility to PNM's Gulf Minerals to West Mesa ("KM") 115 kV transmission line at a Point of Interconnection ("POI") approximately 7.3 miles west of the Marquez 115 kV tap. The POI, will be located at the following coordinates: 107deg 21' 34" West, 35deg 16' 22' 26'" North.

Project Need Justification

The Ojo-Hernandez 115 kV line is a 115 kV transmission line within the northeastern New Mexico 115 kV system. The northeastern New Mexico load area includes the PNM loads in Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Clayton, the Los Alamos County loads, and the Tristate Generation and Transmission Association, Inc. (TSGT) member cooperative loads serving numerous communities including Dulce, Chama, Taos, Espanola, Springer and large industrial loads in far northeast New Mexico. Technical studies demonstrate the Ojo-Hernandez 115 kV line overloads following the loss of another transmission line. A series reactor installed on the Norton-Hernandez 115 kV is automatically inserted when the Norton-Hernandez 115 kV line is overloaded to reduce flow and mitigate the overload. Since the Norton-Hernandez and Ojo-Hernandez lines are in series, reducing flow of the Norton-Hernandez 115 kV line will reduce flow on the Ojo-Hernandez 115 kV line. For the scenario and outages evaluated in the technical studies, the Norton-Hernandez 115 kV did not overload and, therefore, the reactor was not automatically inserted. The studies also demonstrate that switching the reactor in will mitigate the Ojo-Hernandez 115 kV line overload. This project is to modify the existing series reactor switching scheme. The modified scheme will switch the series reactor for an overload of the Ojo-Hernandez 115 kV line or Norton-Hernandez 115 kV line. Without this project PNM will be in violation of NERC Transmission Planning compliance standards (TPL).

Project Alternatives

Upgrading the line was considered as an alternative to the Project since it would mitigate the overload, however, cost would be in excess of $500,000 and would take longer to implement. As a result, modifying the existing scheme is considered the most feasible economic solution.

Technical Aspects

Install equipment required to sense and communicate flow on the Ojo-Hernandez 115 kV line. Modify existing scheme logic to insert the reactor for an overload of the Ojo-Hernandez 115 kV line.

Project Need Justification

This project is to serve load growth in the area near Intel, the village of Corrales and areas near Cottonwood Mall in NW Albuquerque. Panorama Feeder 11 and Rio Hondo Feeder 13 presently serve this area. A Rio Hondo Reconfiguration study conducted in early 2013 shows that even with the Rio Hondo Area Reconfiguration project to be completed in 2015, outages of either Cottonwood II or Panorama substations cannot be supported without using Sara unit I as a backup resource and utilizing more than one supplemental load transfer to pick up load for each feeder out of service. Installing a transformer at Corrales Bluff Station will provide the capacity needed to backup Panorama and Cottonwood II Substations, as well as Rio Hondo Substation during an outage of any of these substations. Corrales Bluff Station is located directly behind the Intel Plant in Rio Rancho.

Project Alternatives

This is the only solution considered since the project location is located where the load growth is occurring and the Corrales Bluff station can accommodate a substation transformer. PNM already owns the Corrales Bluff station.

Technical Aspects

This project is to provide the transmission service to the new 115-12.47 kV, 33.6 MVA transformer at Corrales Bluff substation. The new Corrales Bluff Substation transformer will utilize the existing 115kV breakers 23362 and 24462 and connect to the 115kV line that terminates at this bay position in Corrales Bluff Station.

Project Need Justification

It was determined while performing studies in the Los Lunas, NM area that acceptable operating limits on the existing San Clemente distribution substation will be exceeded based on projected load during normal system conditions.

Project Alternatives

A new unit substation could be built in another location. This option was not chosen, as the existing distribution feeders would need to be reconfigured, adding unnecessary cost and complexity to the project.

Technical Aspects

Build approximately 9,500 ft. of double circuit 115kV line from the Wb line located west of I-25, facilitating the substation upgrade needed to serve the growing load in the San Clemente area during normal as well as emergency loading conditions. The residential area served by San Clemente Substation is projected to continue to grow due to easy access to I-25 for commuters to Albuquerque.

Project Need Justification

Technical studies demonstrate that without this project PNM will be in violation of NERC Transmission Planning compliance standards (TPL). Non-compliance with NERC standards could subject PNM to fines that can range from a few thousand dollars to several hundred thousand dollars for each day PNM remains in violation. This fine could be adjusted upward to a maximum of one million dollars a day per violation depending on the degree of the violations, number of time of occurrence and other factors of the violation. The requested funds will be allocated toward the purchase of equipment and contract labor.

Project Alternatives

Construction of one or more new transmission lines is a technically feasible solution but would be difficult to permit due to the necessary acquisition of new right-of-way which is subject to federal, state, and local load use regulations. A new line alternative would incur much higher construction costs due to the need for new or expanded switching stations at each end of the line and a minimum of 25 miles of 345 kV construction which exceeds $1,000,000/mile. The estimated cost for this alternative is expected to exceed $40 million or twice the cost of the chosen alternative.

Technical Aspects

The loss of the Rio Puerco-BA 345 kV line will overload the BA 345/115 kV transformer under heavy load condition and high power injection from San Juan and the line between BA and Blackwater. This overload is aggravated by the existing wind farms (Taiban Mesa and Aragonne Mesa) interconnected to the BA-Blackwater 345 kV line. When the Rio Puerco-BA line is out of service, only the BA and Norton 345/115 kV transformers provide outlet capability for the power flowing into BA from the east and from San Juan. The proposed project will tie the San Juan-BA 345 kV line into the Rio Puerco station providing an additional Rio Puerco-BA circuit as outlet capacity from BA station under contingencies of the existing Rio Puerco-BA line. New equipment installed at the station will include 345kV reactors, circuit breakers, hand operated switches, motor operated devices, batteries, control house, relaying capacitor voltage transformer, relaying coupling capacitor voltage transformer, heating ventilation and air conditioning unit, line traps, dead end towers and support structures, surge arrestors, current transformers, wire, control cable conduit and relays.

Project Need Justification

Technical studies demonstrate that without this project PNM will be in violation of NERC Transmission Planning compliance standards (TPL). Non-compliance with NERC standards could subject PNM to fines that can range from a few thousand dollars to several hundred thousand dollars for each day PNM remains in violation. This fine could be adjust upward to a maximum of one million dollars a day per violation depending on the degree of the violations, number of time of occurrence and other factors of the violation. The requested funds will be allocated toward the purchase of equipment to include circuit breakers, hand operated and motor operated switches, potential transformer, current transformer, coupling capacitor voltage transformer, wire, control cable, conductor, towers, structures, and contract labor.

Project Alternatives

There are no alternatives in that this project is required to meet NERC standards.

Technical Aspects

Recent technical studies of the northeast transmission system have shown that load growth will cause in low voltages on the northeast system following several outages including the loss of the San Juan-Ojo 345 kV line and Ojo-Taos 345 kV line. Low 115 kV voltages are a violation of NERC standard TPL-002. Transmission Planning has determined that installing dynamic voltage control equipment (SVC) is necessary to address both pre-contingency and post-contingency voltage violations.

Project Need Justification

Technical studies demonstrate that without this project PNM will be in violation of NERC Transmission Planning compliance standards (TPL). Non-compliance with NERC standards could subject PNM to fines that can range from a few thousand dollars to several hundred thousand dollars for each day PNM remains in violation. This fine could be adjusted upward to a maximum of one million dollars a day per violation depending on the degree of the violations, number of time of occurrence and other factors of the violation.

The requested funds will be allocated toward the purchase of the land for the station site, material to include breakers, switches, steel, and control house and other equipment to complete and energize the installation.

Project Alternatives

Transmission Planning examined the possibility of upgrading several Albuquerque 115 kV line. The cost of this alternative is $12.8 million.

Transmission Planning examined the possibility of building a line between North and Sandia 115 kV stations by reconfiguring the existing system and constructing a new portion of line between Montano and North which will require new ROW. The cost of this alternative is $16.4 million.

Technical Aspects

Recent technical studies of the Albuquerque transmission system have shown that load growth will cause overloads on the Albuquerque 115 kV transmission system following a loss of the 345 kV source to Sandia. These overloads are a violation of NERC standard TPL-002. Transmission Planning has determined that the most cost effective mitigation of the overload will be to create a direct path between North and Sandia 115 kV stations by building a new 115 kV station on the CG 115 kV line and reconfiguring the existing system to create a line from North to Sandia.

This project will include the installation of breakers, control house, hand operated switches, motor operated switches, station bus, wire, insulators, sttructures, fiber, relays, conductor and controls wire.

Project No: 65009014 Second 345/115 KV Transformer at Yah-Ta-Hey

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 5/1/2015 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/15

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

The Yah-Ta-Hey 345/115 kV transformer serves as a major bulk power interconnection for the northwestern New Mexico 115 kV system. The northwestern New Mexico load area includes NTUA, City of Gallup and the Tristate Generation and Transmission Association, Inc. (TSGT) member cooperative loads serving numerous communities including Gallup and Grants. Technical studies identify overloads of the Yah-Ta-Hey 345/115 kV transformer for outages of major 345 kV and 230 kV transmission facilities and unacceptable voltage levels in the Gallup area when the existing transformer is out of service. Outages of the Yah-Ta-Hey 345/115 kV transformer also significantly reduce PNM's import capability into northern New Mexico and would substantially increase the need for gas-fired generation utilized in the Albuquerque area. Without this project PNM will be in violation of NERC Transmission Planning compliance standards (TPL).

Project Alternatives

Replacing the existing transformer with a larger unit would address the overload issues but fails to mitigate voltage performance issues, especially under Yah-Ta-Hey transformer maintenance and outage situations.

Technical Aspects

This project will require a expansion of TEP McKinley 345 kV station by installing a new 345 kV breaker to accommodate the interconnection to PNM's 345/115 kV bulk transformer. TEP has completed a facilities study identifying the required system improvements, cost and schedule for the 345 kV interconnection. This interconnection is covered by the existing San Juan –Vail agreement between TEP and PNM. In addition to the installation of a second 345/115 kV 224 MVA bulk transformer, three new 115 kV breakers and replacement of six 115 kV breakers will be required at Yah-Ta- Hey 115 kV station. The 115 kV breakers need to be replaced due to insufficient current interrupting capability of the existing breakers once the new transformer is installed.

Project Need Justification

This is a transmission system enhancement/upgrade project associated with the construction of a transmission systeminterconnection (i.e., the wires-to-wires interconnection) of the Jicarilla Apache Nation ("Jicarilla") 115 kV transmission line and 115/345 kV substation to the PNM San Juan to OJO 345 kV transmission line (the "OJ Line"). PNM and Jicarilla executed the Transmission Construction and Interconnection Agreement ("Agreement") on February 15, 2013.

Project Alternatives

The Agreement obligates PNM to provide all required design and construction labor necessary to interconnect the new 345 kV switching station to the OJ line and install related communications and protection equipment at adjacent/related stations (i.e., the "Other Network Upgrades"). Collectively, the Stand Alone Network Upgrades, Transmission Provider Interconnection Facilities, and Other Network Upgrades comprise "the Project."

Technical Aspects

The facilities required to interconnect Jicarilla's 345 kV transmission line to the PNM transmission system include the addition of a new 345 kV switching station, in a three breaker ring configuration, at the proposed interconnection site (i.e., where the OJ Line crosses State Road 537). In addition, a twenty-five (25) Mvar switchable shunt reactor, located at the new 345 kV switching station will be required to maintain acceptable voltage performance. Other major required facilities include: i) required Transmission Provider Interconnection Facilities (including a motor operated disconnect switch, required primary and back-up metering equipment for the new facilities) to interconnect the Jicarilla's 345 kV transmission line to the new 345 kV switching station; ii) construction of dead-end structures to interconnect the new 345 kV switching station to the OJ Line; and iii) the installation of associated communications and protection equipment.

Project Need Justification

This project will improve reliability. Several 345/115 kV transformers on the PNM system are over 30 years old. Both the original West Mesa and Sandia transformer have had some tap change problems and loss of either of these transformers would put the system at an N-0for several months. There is always the possibility that catastrophic failure of a transformer could damage adjacent equipment and further exasperate the contingency condition. While the transformers are well maintained, there is never certainty on the health of the unit.

Project Alternatives

The alternative would be to continue with current equipment, which poses a reliability risk.

Technical Aspects

The most significant exposures that PNM faces today with respect to the spare transformer are:
--- The cost of operating loadside resources as a result of reduction in transmission capability if one of the existing Albuquerque bulk transformers is forced out of service. Loss of any one of these transformers would result in running loadside generation for the majority of the year. Under normal operating conditions, loadside resources are operated only under peak load conditions. Replacement of a transformer this size can take up to 36 months.
--- PNM is in need of spare transformer capacity to help assure the reliability of the system. The manufacturers have indicated that manufacture and delivery of a transformer of this size is anywhere from 18 to 36 months.
---San Juan generation plant has long held a spare generation step-up transformer on site to ensure timely replacement to reduce exposure to the participants of an extended step-up transformer outage that will remove a generator unit from service pending the procurement and replacement of the transformer.
--- The Edison Electric Institute (EEI) has coordinated a Spare Transformer Equipment Program (STEP) to assess the adequacy of the United States electric transmission system's ability to withstand a major terrorist attack. Based on the results of that assessment, PNM entered into the Spare Transformer Sharing Agreement with numerous other large electric utilities across the country, on March 15, 2006, committing PNM to acquire adequate spare transformer capacity, based on a defined industry-wide worst case scenario. Per the Agreement PNM is obligated to acquire 343 MVA of additional 345/115 kV transformation capacity. With the addition of the Rio Puerco 448 MVA bulk transformer, PNM will be able to meet its STEP obligation. If the Rio Puerco transformer is required to be moved at some future time pursuant to the obligations of this Agreement, PNM will then relocate one of the Hidalgo 224 MVA bulk transformers to Rio Puerco and acquire a second bulk transformer when the Rio Puerco-Progress 115 kV line is energized in 2014. The second transformer is required at Rio Puerco since the MVA requirements will be higher than 224 MVA. The need for PNM to acquire a spare transformer in or after 2014 will be evaluated based on future STEP agreement obligations and system needs. Acquiring a spare transformer will be a long-term solution to the STEP agreement.

Project Need Justification

The Project provides a more efficient and cost effective means of controlling voltage on the PNM transmission system that serves the City of Albuquerque and surrounding area. The Project will significantly improve voltage control during forced or planned outages of a major transmission line and in the rare event of a simultaneous loss of two lines. During periods when a major line is out-of-service, PNM relies on large amounts of load-side generation, automated load shedding and operator action to maintain system stability if another element is lost. The Project will provide stability to the system allowing for reduced or more effective use of automated load shedding and less dependence on operator actions and load-side generation. The Project will lead to reduced operational complexity which reduces risks of NERC reliability standards violations and associated fines for non-compliance. Frequent daily actions are required by the System Operators to insure that adequate voltage support devices are in service to support Path 48 transfer levels while maintaining voltages within acceptable ranges. With the Project, the majority of system adjustments for Path 48 voltage support will no longer be necessary. The development of operating procedures will also be greatly simplify leading to a substantially reduce and manageable effort to factor system changes into real-time operating limit calculations. The Project is the most efficient and cost effective way to maximize utilization of existing transmission assets to maintain transmission system reliability and compliance with NERC/WECC reliability standards. The requested funds will be allocated toward the purchase of equipment and contract labor to install and energize the equipment.

Project Alternatives

Construction of new backbone transmission with costs expected to exceed $70 M and construction schedules which would exceed the Project by several years

Technical Aspects

Install a SVC at Rio Puerco 345 kV station. The project also includes the expansion of the 345 kV associated with the installation of the SVC. The project will include the installation of equipment to include transformers, capacitors, cooling system; disconnect switches, reactors, surge arrestors, surge capacitors, thyristor valves, switchgear, electrical and control and protection equipment.

Project No: 65009606 Blackwater Station Life Extensi

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2006 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/14

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Air handling controls were approved in original CDAP. Controls are outdated and cannot be replaced/repaired. Proper controls are needed for reliable operation of the plant, specifically they control HVAC systems which maintain environmental conditions (remove heat) in the valve hall; without which the converter would shut down.

Project Alternatives

Existing pneumatic controls which are original to the plant (~1983) are functionally obsolete and replacement parts are no longer available. Complete replacement of the control system is the only viable option.

Technical Aspects

Pneumatic controls and sensors which were state of the art in 1983, and needed in the thyristor valve hall (energized equipment) at the time. They have been supplanted by modern control systems ultilizing fiber optics.

Project No: 65028014 Vegtation Managment Software

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 4/28/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 10/03/14

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Vegetation Management has been using the Clearion GIS system since 2010 for Texas and 2011 for New Mexico. Newer versions of the software (V10) is included in the Clearion annual maintenance agreement. Additional functionality will be achieved by moving to V10 which is expected to improve the effectiveness of Clearion. Upgrading to V10 will keep the business on a current and stable version and will facilitate the most effective use of the software.

Project Alternatives

No other alternative has been considered since the solution is considered an upgrade.

Technical Aspects

The objective is to bring the Clearion application to V10, plus - operating systems to Windows 2012, the NM Oracle database to 11g, SQL Express versions to 2012, and supporting ArcGIS tools to V10. In addition, the Motion tablets being used in the field are now 3 years old, coming out of warranty, and do not have operating GPS. Suitable replacement tablets are being purchased. The continued integration with connected systems and devices will be maintained with:

o Banner TX and NM
o ServiceSuite TX
o TIBCO
o Passport web portals (for invoice entry)
o Synchronization with mobile tablets
o Customized Clearion Integrator code

Project No: 65028113 eTAMIS Upgrade

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 9/15/2012 In Service Date Completion Date 02/09/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

December 2013

Project Need Justification

Upgrade eTAMIS application from version 9.3 to Version 10.0 which supports WECC Standard FAC-501-WECC-1-Transmission Maintenance. Migrate. To ensure the Transmission Owner of a transmission path identified in the table titled "Major WECC Transfer Paths in the Bulk Electric System" including associated facilities has a Transmission Maintenance and Inspection Plan (TMIP); and performs and documents maintenance and inspection activities in accordance with the TMIP.

Project Alternatives

No alternatives were considered since eTAMIS has been used for PNM's Transmission Maintenance and Inspection Plan since 1998. It was more cost effective to upgrade the existing application than to replace it.

Technical Aspects

Develop scripts to make geodatabase and database changes for the enhanced reporting schema. eTAMIS application changes that will make population of the geodatabase schema more transparent to the report client and report designer. The report design changes included: Date condition was first entered, Priority code the condition was first entered as, Last name of inspector who first entered condition, Date when condition priority code was changed, Priority code the condition was changed to, Last name of inspector who changed the condition’s priority code. Enhanced environmental access functionality. Right-of-Way access functionality.

Project No: 65030513 Backup Generator Upgrades

Company: 002
Location: 650

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

NERC Reliability Standards require a reliable source of electric power for Backup Control Centers. This project firms up the availability of Emergency power should the utility source become unavailable. This project provides a permanent Generator installation to replace the existing portable generator. The existing system does not auto start nor does it have an auto throw over. This project will add those capabilities. Also, portable generators have high maintenance requirements.

Project Alternatives

Tap into an existing Emergency Generator system at ESC: A load study needs to be performed to determine if the existing system has enough capacity to handle the new load. The existing system provides backup power to the Distribution Operations Center (DOC) at the ESC. If this option is viable is can be accomplished at a lower cost. Load study was completed and results showed we would not be able to support the required load with this option.

Technical Aspects

Install a new backup generator for the Power Operations Backup Control Center. The new backup generator must be properly sized, as well as the rating of the auto throw over switches. These parameters will be determining form a load study that will be performed as part of the project. Site preparation and permitting are also required.

Project No: 65030610 2011 Communications Equipment Capital Budget

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2012 In Service Date Completion Date N/A

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This project provides discretionary funds for the Communications Supervisor to replace or upgrade ageing or obsolete Communications Equipment on PNM's electric transmission system. These projects are typically small projects that would require little or no engineering support. Some examples would be replacing or upgrading microwave radio equipment, upgrading or replacing remote site air conditioning units, needed to keep the equipment for overheating, upgrading remote site generators, replacing or upgrading communications site batteries, upgrading communications system monitoring at remote sites. The funds cover material costs, and the related labor costs to replace and or upgrade obsolete or failed equipment.

Project Alternatives

The alternative to providing discretionary funding for Supervisory management of small projects would be to have all system equipment upgrades and replacement of obsolete equipment, regardless of scope, go through the same process for all of the capital projects, which would dramatically reduce the ability to address critical upgrades and replacement of failed or obsolete communication equipment.

Technical Aspects

The technical aspects of this project involve subject matter expert (supervisor) identifying critical communications equipment that is in need of replacement or upgrade due to obsolescence, ordering the material and coordinating work to accomplish the upgrade or repair of the component. The projects vary depending upon need, but cover the range of work described in the justification section above.

Project Need Justification

This Construction provides for the replacement of the fiber Wrap System on the ID line. The Fiber Wrap technology was deployed in the late 1980's and early 1990's and was the predecessor technology to OPGW. The ID system was installed in the early 1990s and that technology is not commonly used in the US Utility industry. PNM is currently unable to support this system and its replacement is required to maintain the reliability of PNM regional SONET platform. PNM uses this SONET technology for its transmission SCADA system.

Project Alternatives

The alternative is to do nothing and place at risk 50% of the Utility's Transmission SCADA operations

Technical Aspects

PNM is currently unable to support the Fiber Wrap system and it’s replacement is required to maintain the reliability of PNM regional SONET platform. PNM uses SONET technology for it's transmission SCADA system. The alternative to the Wrap Fiber system is OPGW or Distribution Underbuild fiber (ADSS)

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 4/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This construction addresses communication capacity constraints between Albuquerque, Rio Puerco and San Juan Generating Station by providing a Dense Wave Divion Multiplex technology (DWDM) between these locations. The primary purpose of the system is to provide SONET channels between these sites and allow multiple SONET loops to support PNM communications in Northwest New Mexico. The proposed system will integrate with existing communication control software enabling PNM to meet NERC comm monitoring and measurement requirements

Project Alternatives

none

Technical Aspects

The primary purpuse of the system is to provide SONET channels between SJGS, Rio Pureco, and Power Operations and the Backup Control Centerth and allow multiple SONET loops to support PNM communications in Northwest New Mexico. The proposed system will integrate with existing communication control software enabling PNM to meet NERC comm monitoring and measurement requirements

Project No: 65034314 Fiber connectivity Farmington Elec alt route

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/13/2015 In Service Date Completion Date 01/31/16 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This project addresses fiber optic path protection between the Farmington Regeneration Station and SJGS. Currently, the fiber serving SJGS is on a lateral facility, should it fail, critical communications into the Plant would be interrupted for multiple day and potential for a week. This project provides for the construction of an alternate route to mitigate the risk of an extended outage.

Project Alternatives

Take risk of single point of failure on communications path.

Technical Aspects

Construct a 15 mile fiber cable, Distribution Underbuild ADSS, between the Farmington Regen site and SJGS. Work will require a pole attachment agreement with the City of Farmington and the system will tie into the PNM River Station fiber cable built in 2011.

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This project involves providing a fiber communication path in Valencia between Los Morros Switching Station and the Belen Switching Station. The path will provide a fiber loop for all of PNM's Switching Station and Generation facilities in the Las Lunas/Belen area enabling PNM to deploy a protected SONET communication network to serve these assets. This system will tie into PNM's regional SONET network allowing protected SCADA access to these stations from Power Operations and the Backup Control Center.

Project Alternatives

Remain on radio only, without a redundant system.

Technical Aspects

Conductor the shield wire with OPGW (optical ground wire) on the WB 115kv transmission line. between the Belen and Los Morros Stations he path will provide a fiber loop for all of PNM's Switching Station and Generation facilities in the Las Lunas/Belen area enabling PNM to deploy a protected SONET communicaiton network to serve these assets. This system will tie into PNM's regional SONET network allowing protected SCADA access to these stations from Power Operations and the Backup Control Center.

Company: 002
Location: 650

Project Information

Construction Start Date 8/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/16 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This project addresses the replacement of Spread Spectrum Microwave radios installed in the PNM system in the 1990s. These radios were planned as a temporary solution to provide critical communication links in the Utility Communication network. These systems are unlicensed and are subject to interference from other unlicensed radio users. Replacement is required to provide reliable communications for PNM's SCADA network.

Project Alternatives

No action, incur reliability risk for SCADA and Protective Relaying operations

Technical Aspects

These radios were planned as a temporary solution to provide critical communication links in the Utility Communication network. These systems are unlicensed and are subject to interference from other unlicensed radio users. Replacement is required to provide reliable communications for PNM's SCADA network.

Project No: 70716115 Afton Capital Improvements 2016

Company: 003
Location: 707

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2016 In Service Date Completion Date 01/31/16 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Individual Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be placed In Service as appropriate. All Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be completed and In Service prior to December 31, 2016.

Project Need Justification

This project entails smaller emergent capital improvement projects at Afton in 2016. These capital improvement projects shall address emergent safety, regulatory, and/or performance issues to ensure the ongoing safe, compliant, efficient, and reliable operation of the plant.

Project Alternatives

Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be completed only after approval to spend capital to address an emergent need. For each identified project, alternatives will be evaluated on a cost basis and based on each alternative's expected effectiveness at addressing the emergent need.

Technical Aspects

Each capital improvement project will be properly evaluated and engineered to effectively address the emergent need in a cost effective manner. As an example, one emergent need will include the purchase and installation of a new set of enhanced Row 0 compressor blades for the gas turbine to make it more resistant to erosion during the summertime water fog cooling of the inlet air that is necessary to enhance output.

Project No: 70716210 - Afton Contractual Svc Agreement

Company: 003
Location: 707

Project Information

Construction Start Date 12/1/2010 In Service Date Completion Date 02/28/2015 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

TBD - In Service dates for each major maintenance activity based on when these activities are performed. Major maintenance is performed on a prescribed schedule based on gas turbine starts and operating hours. Note that under current operating patterns, Afton is a starts based plant, and thus, the number of starts establishes major maintenance intervals. The next two scheduled major maintenance activities to be performed on the Afton gas turbine under the CSA will be a Combustor Inspection in Fall 2014 and a Hot Gas Path Inspection in Fall 2017 or Spring of 2018.

Project Need Justification

This project is for required, periodic gas turbine major maintenance at Afton under the terms of the Contractual Service Agreement (CSA) between PNM and General Electric. Under the terms of the CSA, General Electric performs all required, periodic gas turbine major maintenance, which includes Combustor Inspections, Hot Gas Path Inspections and Major Inspections, on a prescribed schedule based on gas turbine operating hours and fired starts. The last scheduled major maintenance performed on the Afton gas turbine under the CSA was a Hot Gas Path Inspection in Fall 2010. The next two scheduled major maintenance activities to be performed on the Afton gas turbine under the CSA will be a Combustor Inspection in Fall 2014 and a Hot Gas Path Inspection in Fall 2017 or Spring of 2018.

Project Alternatives

PNM chose to enter this industry-standard CSA with the gas turbine original equipment manufacturer General Electric for a number of reasons. First, the payment terms of the CSA are structured to somewhat levelize the year-to-year cash flow associated with routine major maintenance on the gas turbine. Second, PNM has a small fleet of 7FA gas turbines and it would not be cost-effective to hire permanent engineers and millwrights with the expertise to manage and execute routine major maintenance on the combustion turbine. Staffing such expertise only becomes cost-effective when there is a larger fleet of turbines to manage. Finally, the CSA provides PNM and stakeholders with a partner to share risk. Under the terms of the CSA, GE absorbs any unexpected replacement costs for covered parts that do not perform as designed or whose operating life is shorter than expected. As such, the CSA provides PNM and its stakeholders a valuable hedge against risk.

Technical Aspects

At Afton, Gas Turbine Combustor Inspections, which are performed every 450 starts or 12,000 operating hours, whichever occurs first, are approximately 10 day outages where all of the combustor parts (fuel nozzles, combustion sleeves, transition pieces, etc.) are replaced. Gas Turbine Hot gas path Inspections, which are performed every 900 starts or 24,000 operating hours, whichever occurs first, are approximately 21 day outages where all of the combustor parts (fuel nozzles, combustion sleeves, transition pieces, etc.) and turbine parts (nozzles, blades, wear pads, etc.) are replaced. Gas Turbine Major Inspections, which are performed every 2,700 starts or 72,000 operating hours, whichever occurs first, are approximately 45 day outages where in addition to the Hot Gas Path Inspection work scope, the compressor and the generator are opened, inspected and tested, and the entire turbine rotor is removed from the case for de-blading and testing.

Project No: 70716610 Afton miminum Load Limitation (OpFlex Turndown)

Company: 003
Location: 707

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/16

List Interim In-Service Dates

Individual Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be placed In Service as appropriate. All Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be completed and In Service prior to December 31, 2016.

Project Need Justification

This project involves four capital improvements to the Afton turbine Mark VI control systems. 1) Implementation of OpFlex Airflow will allow the turbine Inlet Guide Vanes (IGV's) to fully open, allowing the turbine to achieve full permitted capacity at site conditions, 2) Implementation of OpFlex Turndown will extend stable operational range to significantly lower loads below current 160 MW, allowing for more economical off-peak operations, 3) Implementation of OpFlex Enhanced Transient Stability (ETS) will enhance the frequency response capability of the gas turbine generator, allowing for compliance with recently NERC-promulgated bulk electric system frequency response requirements, and 4) Upgrade of gas turbine and steam turbine control systems from unsupported Windows XP to Windows 7 systems, allowing for better cyber security patching of these systems compliant with NERC critical infrastructure protection requirements.

Project Alternatives

The first two turbine Mark VI control system upgrade projects, OpFlex Airflow and OpFlex Turndown, have been identified as being economically superior to the "do nothing" alternative. These upgrades to the current Mark VI control systems by the original equipment manufacturer, General Electric, will be much less expensive that wholesale change out of the control systems to offerings from other vendors. The second two turbine Mark VI control system upgrade projects, OpFlex ETS and Windows XP to 7 upgrade, have been identified as being necessary to meet NERC requirements for bulk electric system frequency stability and critical infrastructure protection. The "do nothing" alternative is not an option. Again, these upgrades to the current Mark VI control systems by the original equipment manufacturer, General Electric, will be much less expensive that wholesale change out of the control systems to offerings from other vendors.

Technical Aspects

All of these turbine Mark VI control system upgrade projects will be performed by the original equipment manufacturer, General Electric. The scope of work will relate strictly to the upgrades to the Mark VI control system software.

Project No: 70728913 Afton DCS

Company: 003
Location: 707

Project Information

Construction Start Date 6/1/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 03/31/14

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Project Fund for the replacement of the Afton balance of plant distributed control system and hardware with state-of-the-art components to address known issues with the existing system. The existing Afton DCS is overloaded and slow to respond during configuration updates. The existing CPU60's are slow and beginning to affect system performance. PC and CPU hardware is at its end of life. Failure of the DCS will affect unit availability.

Project Alternatives

The do nothing option is not feasible because it will result in system failures that will adversely affect plant availability and reliability.

Technical Aspects

The scope of work for the project includes upgrade of all associated PC's, CPU's, monitors and the addition of the MESH Network. The MESH Network includes a new fiber optic network to enable data movement at faster speeds with more redundancy. In addition, a new FCS configurator will be installed to allow programming to be accomplished utilizing graphical symbols instead of line code. In order to prepare for future NERC CIP requirements, a new login and tracking Foxray software environment will be installed during the upgrade. Training will also be provided for operators and technicians.

Project No: 70730515 Afton Security Equipment

Company: 003
Location: 707

Project Information

Construction Start Date 4/1/2015 In Service Date Completion Date 06/30/15

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

This project is a wedge/placeholder in the 2015 budget for possible building security system improvements. Technical aspects of the proposed project include purchase and installation of security cameras for the Afton site. These proposed improvements will increase safety and security for the building occupants.

Project Alternatives

The alternative is to maintain the current system and repair as breakdown occurs. At the time, the facility security is unreliable and may present a safety hazard, and the site cannot be monitored by Albuquerque Downtown Headquarters' security operations center staff.

Technical Aspects

This project will replace cabling, cameras, servers and card readers for the building site. The exact technical specifications will be determined after a scope is determined with an outside vendor.

Project No: 70316114 Combustion Turbine Upgrades

Company: 003
Location: 703

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 07/14/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Work on Unit 1 Turbine will occur in Spring 2014 with an expected In-Service date of June 30, 2014. Work on Unit 2 Turbine will occur in Spring 2015 with an expected In-Service date of June 30, 2015.

Project Need Justification

This project entails the implementation of several General Electric (GE) Product Bulletin mandates concerning multiple component replacements/upgrades needed to ensure the continued safe and reliable operation of the LM-6000 gas turbine engines at Lordsburg. In particular, GE has found that the currently installed high-pressure rotor disk is prone to cracking and is recommended to be replaced with an improved design component prior to 3,000 thermal cycles. Unit 1 currently has about 2,900 cycles and component replacements are scheduled for Spring 2014, while Unit 2 currently has about 2,700 cycles and component replacements are scheduled for Spring 2015. Failure to implement these substantial component replacements/upgrades could lead to dangerous and much more costly catastrophic failures.

Project Alternatives

The project scope was evaluated against the do nothing option. The do nothing option is not recommended due to the critical need to implement these improvements, which if not implemented, would lead to unacceptable risks to safety, reliability, and would increase future costs should a catastrophic failure occur. Project scope to be sent out for competitive bidding to at least two qualified LM-6000 overhaul vendors.

Technical Aspects

The scope of work includes installation of new and improved Stage 1 High-Pressure Rotor Disk, Forward Fan Shaft and Low-Pressure Turbine Coupling Nuts, #1 & #3 Bearing Seals, Inlet Gearbox Assembly Insert, Air Collector Baffle, High-Pressure Turbine Rotor Diffuser Vane Ring, and HP Turbine Rotor Stage 1 Disk Air Baffle Ring.

Company: 003
Location: 713

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/30/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

New NERC CIP Standards may require better access control, firewall integrity, inventory listing, cyber security patching and virus scans of all windows plant based control systems. In addition, NERC CIP Standard plans will need to be developed and implemented for Reeves.

Project Alternatives

A do nothing option is not viable. NERC will require improvements be made to the cyber security to the plant control systems.

Technical Aspects

Reeves will coordinate efforts with San Juan to ensure minimum requirements are implemented per NERC CIP requirements.

Project No: 71316813 eeves U1,U2 PSH Superheater Replacement

Company: 003
Location: 713

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 06/30/13 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

The existing Reeves primary superheater tube bundles have reached the end of their life. Reeves is experiencing many tube leaks in this area. Continued use of the existing superheater tube bundles will directly affect Reeves Unit 2 reliability.

Project Alternatives

Option 1: Do nothing option. This option is not feasible because this will result in unit outages that will impact unit reliability. Option 2: Replace tube bundles. This option is the recommended option.

Technical Aspects

The scope of the work for the replacement includes the removal of the existing superheater tube bundles and the installation of new tube bundles with comprehensive QA certifications. In addition, new burner control software will be installed to improve combustion control. This will extend the life of the new superheater tube bundles .Installation will occur during a Unit 1 planned outage.

Project No: 71316825 Reeves U3 Upper Economizer Replacement

Company: 003
Location: 713

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2016 In Service Date Completion Date 6/31/16 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

The upper economizer tubes were overheated due to a damaged boiler refractory. The refractory has been repaired and several tubes have been replaced but many of the upper economizer tubes have been fatigued. Not replacing the upper economizer tubes may result in unit outages thus reducing the reliability of Reeves Station.

Project Alternatives

Option 1: Replace only small sections of tubing. This approach is not a viable long term solution and not cost effective.
Option 2: Replace all upper economizer tubes. Most cost effective and solves the long term problem - this is the solution selected.

Technical Aspects

Over heating of economizer tubes can result from a defective refractory, no economizer flow, and over-firing during startup. All this issues are being addressed by the installation of a temperature pyrometer and implementation of revised operating procedures related to over-firing conditions during startup.

Project No: 71317114 U2 Transformer Sudden Pressure Relays (FM Global)

Company: 003
Location: 713

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 07/01/14 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Presently the Reeves Generating station Unit 1 transformer has mechanical sudden pressure relays installed with no trip. The factory manual requires that a sudden pressure relays be installed that provide an output for unit tripping in the event of a transformer fault.

Project Alternatives

Do nothing option is no longer acceptable per the factory mutual. The only acceptable option is the installation of a new sudden pressure relay with unit tripping capability.

Technical Aspects

The sudden pressure relays will be installed during unit outages utilizing existing transformer penetrations.

Project No: 71317613 Cathodic Protection Line Filters

Company: 003
Location: 713

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 10/31/14

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

Install line filters on all power lines exiting the Reeves Station Plant. These line filters will prevent catodic protection DC currents from flowing off plant site and affecting Gas Company of New Mexico gas lines. In addition, once the offsite DC current are minimized, cathodic protection for Reeves Station will be optimized.

Project Alternatives

Option 1: Do nothing option. This option is not feasible because this will result cathodic protection DC voltages affecting the gas company gas line.
Option 2: Set the voltage levels down on cathodic protection. The lower voltages will not properly protect the underground pipe lines at Reeves.
Option 3: Install line filters on all power lines at Reeves. This option is the recommended option.

Technical Aspects

Line department is going to need to install line filters on the transmission line static lines for those lines entering Reeves Station.

Project No: 71317725 Reeves Units 2 & 3 Cooling Tower Upgrades

Company: 003
Location: 713

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2015 In Service Date Completion Date 05/31/15 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

U1 has a few strutural issues that need to be resolved which include cooling tower breakage in the distribution basin deck, hoist, and the stairway needs additional anchoring and fan deck replacement. The Unit 1 and Unit 2 cooling towers need fill replacements. The structural concerns for the cooling tower are a safety issue. The fill replacement may be needed to maintain unit full load capability, minimize water consumption and improve unit efficiency.

Project Alternatives

The do nothing option is not a feasible approach as structural issues are create safety issues that need to be addressed.

Technical Aspects

The cooling tower project will be implemented during unit outages in 2015.

Project No: 71328014 U1 Boiler Combustion Solution

Company: 003
Location: 713

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2013 In Service Date Completion Date 08/31/14

List Interim In-Service Dates

Project Need Justification

During Reeves Unit 1 full load operation it is difficult to maintain defined Nox levels. In addition, under high CO conditions, soot is being generated by the boiler. New boiler optimization software will be installed on the DCS to better tune the boiler and minimize NOx and CO.

Project Alternatives

The do nothing option is not feasible. Another option considered was the option to modify combustion air systems in the boiler by removing shrouds and modifying burners. This option is costly and may result in air permit changes. The new optimization option is the most cost effective option to solve the problem.

Technical Aspects

Need to add automatic gas valve and implement boiler optimization program.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and to provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and has been reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects related to maintain the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. This project represents 32 capital improvement initiatives on Unit 1 out of ~ 200 for PV during 2015. Major initiatives include expenditures to replace the generator excitation system; Reactor Coolant pump motor replacement; nuclear reactor control element assembly replacement and concrete replacement for the ultimate heat sink, spray pond.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and to provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and has been reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects relating to maintaining the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. This project represents 39 capital improvement initiatives on Unit 2 out of ~ 200 for PV during 2015. Major initiatives include expenditures to replace the generator excitation system; Main Transformer replacement; life extension work on the cooling towers; Fukushima modifications and the replacement of a nuclear reactor coolant pump motor.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and to provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects related to maintaining the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. This project represents 31 capital improvement initiatives on Unit 3 out of ~200 for PV during 2015. Major initiatives include expenditures to replace the generator excitation system; life extension work on the cooling towers; Fukushima modifications and HP turbine diaphragm replacement.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and to provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and has been reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions. All of the following Project Numbers (724) are Common across the generating facility.

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects on relating to the maintenance of the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. All of the 724 series projects are common across the generating facility and are 97 capital improvement initiatives out of the ~200 at PV during 2015. Major initiatives include Fukushima emergency response equipment; emergency equipment storage building; NATM replacement; extension of the Protected Area zone; security access system upgrades and cyber security regulation initiatives.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and to provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and has been reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. See additional discussion on Lease Agreement provisions for Unit 2 below. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions. All of the following Project Numbers (724) are Common across the generating facility.

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects on relating to the maintenance of the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. All of the 724 series projects are common across the generating facility and are 97 capital improvement initiatives out of the ~200 at PV during 2015. Major initiatives include Fukushima emergency response equipment; emergency equipment storage building; NATM replacement; extension of the Protected Area zone; security access system upgrades and cyber security regulation initiatives.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. See additional discussion on Lease Agreement provisions for Unit 2 below. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions. All of the following Project Numbers (724) are Common across the generating facility.

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects on relating to the maintenance of the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. All of the 724 series projects are common across the generating facility and are 97 capital improvement initiatives out of the ~200 at PV during 2015. Major initiatives include Fukushima emergency response equipment; emergency equipment storage building; NATM replacement; extension of the Protected Area zone; security access system upgrades and cyber security regulation initiatives.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and to provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and has been reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. See additional discussion on Lease Agreement provisions for Unit 2 below. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects on relating to the maintenance of the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. All of the 724 series projects are common across the generating facility and are 97 capital improvement initiatives out of the ~200 at PV during 2015. Major initiatives include Fukushima emergency response equipment; emergency equipment storage building; NATM replacement; extension of the Protected Area zone; security access system upgrades and cyber security regulation initiatives.

Project Need Justification

Palo Verde completes capital projects annually to maintain the facility in compliance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission regulations and to provide the highest capacity factor that is economically justified. This capital program has been developed after extensive internal review by the Operating Agent, PVNGS, and has been reviewed by each of the participant owners. Failure to maintain plant equipment adds risks not carried by non-nuclear facilities in that plant performance and operating authorization is continually analyzed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission under Federal guidelines.

Project Alternatives

With a 10.2% ownership of PVNGS, PNM is one of seven parties to a Participation Agreement that runs through 2047. This contract provides the only alternative for review of capital projects recommended by the Operating Agent. Under the Participation Agreement (PA), the Owner-Participants have reviewed and approved the recommended 2015 capital improvement budget. The PA provides a resolution process for any Owner(s) who disagree with the NRC Licensee and plant Operator's (Arizona Public Service) recommendations for Capital and O&M expenditures. The PA further provides that the contesting Owner must continue to pay their share of the Operating Agent's invoice for disputed projects pending final resolution. See additional discussion on Lease Agreement provisions for Unit 2 below. Among many requirements are specific provisions that "PNM will cause the Operating Agent to maintain the said property and plant in such condition that it will have the capacity and functional ability to perform, on a continuing basis in normal commercial operation..." (DOCID-1-FL-8A). Failure to do so places PNM in risk of default. This again, places Palo Verde in a unique situation in that other Owner-Participants review and approval decisions

Technical Aspects

Involves multiple projects on relating to the maintenance of the nuclear reactor, steam generation, turbine generator, and related nuclear safety components. All of the 724 series projects are common across the generating facility and are 97 capital improvement initiatives out of the ~200 at PV during 2015. Major initiatives include Fukushima emergency response equipment; emergency equipment storage building; NATM replacement; extension of the Protected Area zone; security access system upgrades and cyber security regulation initiatives.

List Interim In-Service Dates

Individual Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be placed In Service as appropriate. All Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be completed and In Service prior to December 31, 2014.

Project Need Justification

Project Fund for smaller emergent Capital Improvement Projects at Luna in 2014. Such capital improvement projects shall address emergent safety, regulatory and/or performance issues to assure ongoing safe, compliant, efficient and reliable operation of the plant. Included are projects to install new maintenance platform structures, improvements to the chiller buildings, cooling tower fan upgrades, installation of a new fire protection system under the steam turbine, installation of a new Unit 2 high-pressure steam Stop/Check Valve, installation of new power conditioners for the hydrogen generators, and replacement of a plant vehicle.

Project Alternatives

Capital Improvement Projects funded under this Project Fund will be completed only after approval to spend capital to address an emergent need. For each identified project, alternatives will be evaluated on a cost basis and based on each alternative's expected effectiveness at addressing the emergent need.

Technical Aspects

Each Capital Improvement Project funded under this Project Fund will be properly evaluated and engineered to effectively address an emergent need in a cost effective manner.

Project No: 74417010 Luna GE LTSA

Company: 003
Location: 744

Project Information

Construction Start Date 1/1/2014 In Service Date Completion Date 12/31/15 Page 1

List Interim In-Service Dates

TBD - In Service dates for each major maintenance activity based on when these activities are performed. Major maintenance is performed on a prescribed schedule based on gas turbine starts and operating hours. Note that under current operating patterns, Luna is a starts based plant, and thus, the number of starts establishes major maintenance intervals. The remaining major maintenance activities to be performed under the LTSA are a Major Inspection on U2 gas turbine in Fall 2014, a Major Inspection on U1 gas turbine and the steam turbine in Spring 2015, and Hot Gas Path Inspections on U2 and U1 gas turbines in Fall 2017 and Spring 2018, respectively.

Project Need Justification

Project Fund for required, periodic major maintenance on the Luna gas turbines and steam turbine under the terms of a Long-Term Services Agreement (LTSA) between the Luna Owners and General Electric. Under the terms of the LTSA, General Electric performs all required, periodic gas turbine major maintenance, which includes Hot Gas Path Inspections and Major Inspections, as well as steam turbine Major Inspections, on a prescribed schedule based on gas turbine operating hours and fired starts. The remaining major maintenance activities to be performed under the LTSA are a Major Inspection on U2 gas turbine in Fall 2014, a Major Inspection on U1 gas turbine and the steam turbine in Spring 2015, and Hot Gas Path Inspections on U2 and U1 gas turbines in Fall 2017 and Spring 2018, respectively.

Project Alternatives

The Luna Owners chose to enter this industry-standard LTSA with the turbine original equipment manufacturer General Electric for a number of reasons. First, the Luna Owners have a small fleet of 7FA gas turbines and it would not be cost-effective to hire permanent engineers and millwrights with the expertise to manage and execute routine major maintenance on the combustion turbine. Staffing such expertise only becomes cost-effective when there is a larger fleet of turbines to manage. Second, the LTSA provides the Luna Owners and stakeholders with a partner to share risk. Under the terms of the LTSA, GE absorbs any unexpected replacement costs for covered parts that do not perform as designed or whose operating life is shorter than expected. As such, the LTSA provides the Luna Owners and its stakeholders a valuable hedge against risk.

Technical Aspects

At Luna, Gas Turbine Hot Gas Path Inspections, which are performed every 900 starts or 24,000 operating hours, whichever occurs first, are approximately 21 day outages where all of the combustor parts (fuel nozzles, combustion sleeves, transition pieces, etc.) and turbine parts (nozzles, blades, wear pads, etc.) are replaced. Gas Turbine Major Inspections, which are performed every 2,700 starts or 72,000 operating hours, whichever occurs first, are approximately 45 day outages where in addition to the Hot Gas Path Inspection work scope, the compressor and the generator are opened, inspected and tested, and the entire turbine rotor is removed from the case for de-blading and testing. The Steam Turbine Major Inspection work scope, performed during the Gas Turbine Major Inspection, includes an open/clean/close on the turbine, steam valve refurbishment,and generator inspection and testing.

Project Need Justification

Project 76076416 was created to reduce capital spend in SJ Unit 4 to PNM's 2014 capital ownership percentages prior to the amendment of the SJ PPA pursuant to the BART case. This project is a contra project that was used to reverse capital spend and related loads allocated to PNM under the revised rates reached under the SJ PPA amendment. For example, PNM had budgeted capital ownership of 327MW in SJ Unit 4 which reflects PNM's incremental 132MW pursuant to the BART case. Under the BART case, this 132MW is not attributable to rate base until the case goes into effect in 2018. FP 76076416 reverses PNM's capital investment in unit 4 from 327MW to the existing 195 MW. Similar adjustments were made for SJ 3&4 Common, and SJ Common on other funding projects.

Project Alternatives

This project was created to exclude the incremental 132MW ownership in SJ Unit 4 from rate base. The dollars in project 76076416 reflect those negative amounts necessary to reflect 2015 through 2018 dollars at PNM's current ownership levels. Capital investments related to the incremental 132MW ownership will be moved to rate base in 2018.

Technical Aspects

76416012 "In kind replacement of obsolete electrical equipment. The equipment replacements with be of similar design but with upgraded materials and solid state controls."

76416019 "Replace existing obsolete controls with state of the art electronic devices"

76416021 Sensing instrumentation and circuit boards.
76416025 Damper, seal air blowers, motors, controls.
76416027 Substrate, insulation, waterproof membrane.
76416028 Piping, valves, discharge nozzles, controls.
76416029 "Install a check valve and sensing equipment to alarm on water flow through the system. The check valve installation consist of a flapper type valve with a sensor to detect opening of the valve. The valve only opens when water flows. Flowing water indicates either a discharge at sprinkler head or a leak in the system.
76416034 Motor control center.
76416039 Install a submerged flite chain conveyor in the bottom ash removal system and retire the existing bottom ash hopper, clinker grinders, jet pulsion pumps, high pressure ash water system and ash dewatering system equipment. The complete scope of structural, piping, electrical and controls modifications cannot be identified until conceptual engineering is complete.
76416119 Change control system programming to support implementation of best control practices.
76416127 Construct steel framed structures with grating surfaces to enhance access to equipment. Platforms are typically steel frames with grating surfaces and either stair risers and stringers or caged ladders.
76416128 Construct steel framed structures with grating surfaces to enhance access to equipment. Platforms are typically steel frames with grating surfaces and either stair risers and stringers or caged ladders.
76416132 "Change control system programming to support implementation of best control practices
76416134 "Replace obsolete electromechanical relays with solid state devices. This project is part of a multiyear program to replace electromechanical relays with solid state relays. The relays are located in all areas of the plant - each unit, common areas and the switchyard.
76416212 Tube for tube replacement of the heat exchanger below the turbine.
76416215 Install sensing devices to better map temperature profiles in the boiler.
76416232 "Replace existing obsolete sensing devices and signal transmitters with state of the art electronic devices
76416315 Later
76416334 Examine existing fabric joints on Unit 4 and replace those that are leaking with new joints.
76416414 "In kind replacement of failed electrical motor. The replacements will be of similar design but with upgraded materials and solid state controls.
76416415 "Replace the existing failed dryer with a desiccant based tower system
76416424 "Install relays and maintenance switches which will reduce the available arc flash incident energy. This project is part of a multiyear program to replace electromechanical relays with solid state relays. The relays are located in all areas of the plant - each unit, common areas and the switchyard.
76416514 "In kind replacement of failed 24"" water line - approximately 300 feet. Some minor pipe routing changes may be made to facilitate installation and future maintenance.
76416515 "Replace existing obsolete pH probes with new probes and install a mounting system that facilitates cleaning without requiring electrical technicians to disconnect the wiring.
76416532 "Install shrouds around motor cooling air intakes to prevent contamination from dust from nearby gypsum pile
76416634 "In kind replacement of thinned piping that conducts pulverized coal from the pulverizers to the burners
76416715 Install sensing devices, transmitters, analytical software and controls to enhance combustion based on carbon monoxide readings at the boiler exit.
76416732 "Replace three (3) nuclear source based density sensing instruments with non-nuclear coriolis based density sensing instruments

76416815 "Replace monitors and software used to report stack emission data to regulatory agencies. The existing systems will be replaced with the latest version of sensors, gas analyzers and data collection devices. The new equipment will have greater accuracy and higher reliability than the aging equipment.

76416915 Variable frequency drives.
76416922 mechanical fly ball, eletromechanical conversion devices, wiring, piping
76417015 Batteries, cables and rack.
76417115 "Installation of new ash removal equipment including dry flite chain conveyor, ash crusher, discharge chute, day tank, instrumentation, and controls on Unit 4.
76417221 Technical aspects for gear drive replacement would include working on valves, piping and pumps.
76417415 "Install a second perforated plate between the existing sieve tray elevation and the first spray header elevation.
76417515 In kind replacement of the control an isolation valves that control steam temperatures leaving the boiler and heading to the turbine. The attemperator spray valves are an in-kind replacement of 2500PSI control valves and isolation valves.
76421912 Reagent unloading, storage and forwarding. Injectors. Controls. Balanced draft modifications.
76428015 Upgrade operating system software to latest (and most secure) release.
76428518 "Install software that automatically documents and reports configuration changes.

Project Need Justification

Project 76076616 was created to reduce capital spend in SJ Unit 3&4 Common to PNM's 2014 capital ownership percentages prior to the amendment of the SJ PPA pursuant to the BART case. This project is a contra project that was used to reverse capital spend and related loads allocated to PNM under the revised rates reached under the SJ PPA amendment. For example, PNM had budgeted capital ownership of 327MW in SJ Unit 4 which reflects PNM's incremental 132MW pursuant to the BART case. Under the BART case, this 132MW is not attributable to rate base until the case goes into effect in 2018. FP 76076416 reverses PNM's capital investment in unit 4 from 327MW to the existing 195 MW. Similar adjustments were made for SJ 3&4 Common, and SJ Common on other funding projects.

Project Alternatives

This project was created to exclude the incremental 132MW ownership in SJ Unit 4 from rate base. The dollars in project 76076616 reflect those negative amounts necessary to reflect 2015 through 2018 dollars at PNM's current ownership levels. Capital investments related to the incremental 132MW ownership will be moved to rate base in 2018.

Technical Aspects

76616222 "Install Intruder Detection System (IDS) and Intrusion Prevention System (IPS) software on critical cyber assets

76616225 This project is to add card access to various areas of San Juan Generating Station
76616226 Piping, valves.
76616231 Replace failed coatings on tanks with coatings engineered for the conditions encountered.
76616233 "At the North Side Waste Water (NSWW) facility, replace piping fabricated from asbestos containing materials with piping that has no asbestos containing materials
76616234 "At the North Side Waste Water (NSWW) facility, replace piping fabricated from asbestos containing materials with piping that has no asbestos containing materials
76616235 Later.
76616311 "Install data collection device and software to process and record transmitter signals from thousands of sensing elements
76616315 Rubber conveyor belt.
76616320 "Identify, purchase an install a replacement Material Control System software which is fully supported and integrates with various industry leading work asset management systems. Replace wheels and rails on the warehouse robots.
76616334 A third party coating specialist and PNM engineering will develop the technical work scope which will include removal of the old coating, preparation of steel piping, and application of new coating.
76616415 Replace existing coal chutes with an upgraded design which will reduce the amount of dust generated as coal is transferred to various belts.
76616436 Fluid drive motor to belt coupling.
76616520 "Replace obsolete electromechanical relays with solid state devices. The relays are located in all areas of the plant - each unit, common areas and the switchyard.
76616536 Replace obsolete controls with state of the art electronic controls.
76616815 Purchase, install and test electrical devices for NERC compliance prior to introducing to operations. NERC requires compliance certification before new devices are deployed in the plant so a test lab is needed to demonstrate compliance and achieve certification.
76616915 "Install a redundant power feed to the blowers which support plant wide FGD operation. The backup power is a separate power feed coming from an independent source.
76617015 Replace existing obsolete controls with state of the art electronic devices.
76617032 "Install dust collection hoods at coal transfer chutes and a water curtain based dust extraction system in the coal tripper room
76617115 Physically divide the plant data highway into discrete segments to the facility can move from a "medium risk" classification to a "low risk" classification.
76617132 "Install relays and maintenance switches which will reduce the available arc flash incident energy. 76716212 "All of these projects are in service as of October 31, 2014"
76716220 "These projects complete at various times in 2014, 2015 and 2016 but mainly by December 31 of each year."
76716314 "These project will be in service on or before December 31, 2014"
76717514 "These systems will be in service by December 31, 2014"
76717523 "These project will be in service on or before December 31, 2014"
76717913 "The auxiliary cooling tower project will be in service on December 31, 2014."

Project Need Justification

Project 76076716 was created to reduce capital spend in SJ Common to PNM's 2014 capital ownership percentages prior to the amendment of the SJ PPA pursuant to the BART case. This project is a contra project that was used to reverse capital spend and related loads allocated to PNM under the revised rates reached under the SJ PPA amendment. For example, PNM had budgeted capital ownership of 327MW in SJ Unit 4 which reflects PNM's incremental 132MW pursuant to the BART case. Under the BART case, this 132MW is not attributable to rate base until the case goes into effect in 2018. FP 76076416 reverses PNM's capital investment in unit 4 from 327MW to the existing 195 MW. Similar adjustments were made for SJ 3&4 Common, and SJ Common on other funding projects.

Project Alternatives

This project was created to exclude the incremental 132MW ownership in SJ Common from rate base. The dollars in project 76076716 reflect those negative amounts necessary to reflect 2015 through 2018 dollars at PNM's current ownership levels. Capital investments related to the incremental 132MW ownership will be moved to rate base in 2018.

Technical Aspects

76716015 "Replace existing obsolete controls with state of the art electronic devices (e.g., circuit boards, wiring, processors, graphical interfaces and control logic programming)"
76716212 "Design and install a wet standpipe system in the areas where coal is transferred from conveyor belts into storage silos"
76716220 "Replace failed roofing with fully adhered roofing system. Roof replacements include removal of the existing ballast and/or fully adhered waterproof membrane, insulation and decking (if necessary). Some of the original roofing systems used asbestos containing materials so abatement is necessary. The new roof systems are using a light weight concrete in lieu of aggregate ballast."

76716221 Substrate, insulation, waterproof membrane.
76716314 "In kind replacement of failed electrical motor. The replacements will be of similar design but with upgraded materials and solid state controls."
76716510 Replacement of existing cooling coils, installing over 600 LF of 6 chilled water (supply & return) lines, zone control dampers and new electronic control elements and controls for both heating and cooling.
76717514 "Replace existing obsolete controls with state of the art electronic devices (e.g., circuit boards, wiring, processors, graphical interfaces and control logic programming)"
76717523 "In kind replacement of coal conveyor belt"
76717913 "The condenser tubes are being replaced with in-kind materials. The Unit 1 wooden fan deck, or top surface of the tower, is being replaced with fiberglass decking. The hot water basin is being rebuilt with in-kind materials. The Unit 1 existing electrical equipment and enclosure is being completely replaced with state of the art motor control centers, relays to control arc flash incident energy, Replacement transformers with higher KVA ratings are included in the upgrades. The equipment will be housed in a modular container. The existing metal building is severely corroded and would need significant repairs if it were not being replaced. The drift eliminators on the auxiliary tower are being replaced with in-kind materials. In kind replace of drift eliminators."
