

PNM Resources (NYSE: PNM) is an energy holding company based in Albuquerque, N.M. with consolidated 2016 operating revenues of $1.4 billion.

Through its two utility subsidiaries, PNM Resources supplies electricity to more than 765,000 homes and businesses in New Mexico and Texas.

Subsidiaries

PNM provides electricity to more than 520,000 customers in New Mexico. It has approximately 2,787 megawatts of generation capacity. (PNM.com)

TNMP provides transmission and distribution services to 245,000 customers in Texas. (TNMP.com)

Patrick Apodaca is Senior Vice President and General Counsel for PNM Resources, the parent company of PNM and TNMP. He joined PNM Resources in January 2010. Patrick has responsibility for assuring the provision of high quality, efficient and effective legal services to all areas of the company. He also oversees corporate governance and human resources. Patrick previously served as University Counsel for the University of New Mexico. He also served as independent counsel to the City of Albuquerque and associate counsel to the President in the White House from 1977-1981.

Business Experience

PNM Resources

-Senior Vice President and General Counsel

University of New Mexico

-University Counsel

Keleher and McLeod

-Shareholder and director
-Associate

City of Albuquerque

-Independent Counsel

Office of the White House

-Associate Counsel to the President

Professional Affiliations

- American Law Institute, Member
- New Mexico Hispanic Bar Association, Member
- Albuquerque Bar Association, Member

Community Activities

- Albuquerque Community Foundation, Board of Trustees Member
- New Mexico First, Board Member
- Albuquerque Academy, Board of Trustees Member
- PNM Resources Foundation, Board Member

Education

- Georgetown University, Bachelor of Science in Foreign Service
- Harvard Law School, JD

Bar Admission

- New Mexico
- District of Columbia